CHAPTER I: INTRODUCTION
1-14
1.1 Background
1
1.2 Men’s Influence on Women’s Health
5
1.3 Women’s Reproductive and Child Health
7
1.3.1 Global Scenario of Women and Children
7
1.3.2 Status of Nepalese Women and Children
8
1.4 Men’s Participation in Reproductive and Child Health Care
9
1.5 Research Problem
11
1.6 Research Questions
12
1.7 Objectives of the Study
13
1.8 Organization of the Study
13

CHAPTER II: LITERATURE REVIEW, CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK AND METHODOLOGY
14-52
2.1 Introduction
15
2.2 Debate on Masculinities
16
2.3 Masculinities in the Context of Health
18
2.4 Review of Related Studies
20-32
2.4.1. Family Planning
20
2.4.2. Maternal Health
24
2.4.3. STDs and HIV / AIDS
26
2.4.4 Child Health
29
2.4.5. Decision Making
32
2.5 Conceptual Framework
34-38
2.5.1 Socio-cultural Variables
34
2.5.2 Demographic Variables
35
2.5.3 Socioeconomic Variables
2.5.4 Programmatic Variable
2.5.5 Geographical Variables

2.6 Descriptions and Measurement of Variables Used in Analysis

2.7 Construction of Indices
a) Mass Media Index
b) Standard of Living Index

2.8 Methodology

2.8.1 Survey Design
   2.8.1.1 Sample size
   2.8.1.2 Selection of the Study Area
   2.8.1.3 Sample Design
   2.8.1.4 Methods for Data Collection
   2.8.1.5 Data Collection

2.8.2 Methods of Data Analysis
   2.8.2.1 Chi-Square Test
   2.8.2.2 Logistic Regression

CHAPTER III: AN INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY AREA

3.1 Country Background

3.2 District Profile
   3.2.1 Tanahu
   3.2.2 Syanjga
   3.2.3 Kaski

3.3 Characteristics of the Study Population

3.3.1 Background Characteristics of Household
   3.3.1.1 Household Composition
   3.3.1.2 Characteristics of Household Population

3.3.2 Characteristics of Respondents

CHAPTER IV: MEN'S PARTICIPATION IN FAMILY PLANNING

4.1 Introduction

4.2 Description of variables
   4.2.1 Response Variables
      4.2.1.1 Knowledge of Contraceptive Methods
      4.2.1.2 Attitude toward Family Planning and Contraceptive Methods
      4.2.1.3 Men's Participation in Family Planning
4.3 Results of Bivariate Analysis

4.3.1 Ever Heard of Family Planning 85
4.3.2 Men’s Knowledge of Contraceptive Methods 87
4.3.3 Sources of Knowledge of Family Planning Methods 91
4.3.4 Men’s Knowledge of Main Source of Family Planning Methods 95
4.3.5 Men’s Knowledge of Condom that Protects against Pregnancy and Diseases 97
4.3.6 Men’s Attitude towards Birth Spacing 99
4.3.7 Men’s Attitudes towards Sharing the Responsibility to Family Planning 101
4.3.8 Attitude towards Contraceptive Methods 102
4.3.9 Men’s Attitude towards Condom that Reduces Sexual Pleasure 104
4.3.10 Ever and Current use of Contraceptive Methods 105
4.3.11 Spousal Communication about Family Planning 111
4.3.12 Decision on Usage of Contraceptive Methods 112

4.4 Results of Multivariate Analysis

4.4.1 Knowledge on Condom that Protects against Pregnancy and Diseases 115
4.4.2 Men’s Attitude towards Contraceptive Methods that Cause Infertility 116
4.4.3 Men’s Support for Condom that Reduces Sexual Pleasure 117
4.4.4 Utilization of Contraceptive Methods 119
4.4.5 Spousal Communication about Family Planning 121
4.4.6 Decision on Usage of Contraceptive Methods 123

4.5 Observations from Qualitative Information

4.5.1 Attitude towards Family Planning 125
4.5.2 Attitude towards Family Planning Methods 126
4.5.3 Attitudes towards Spousal Communication 129

4.6 Summary of the Findings 129

CHAPTER V: MEN’S PARTICIPATION IN MATERNAL HEALTH CARE 132-207

5.1 Introduction 132

5.2 Description of Variables 134-140

5.2.1 Response Variables 135-140

5.2.1.1 Antenatal Care 135
5.2.1.2 Delivery Care 136
5.2.1.3 Postnatal Care 137
5.2.1.4 Breastfeeding 137
5.2.1.5 Sexually Transmitted Diseases 138
5.2.1.6 Men Involvement in Maternal health 138

5.2.2 Explanatory variables 140
5.4 Results of Bivariate Analysis

5.4.1 Men's Knowledge on Partner's Antenatal Check Up
5.4.2 Men's Knowledge on TT Injection Received by Partners
5.4.3 Men's Knowledge of Iron Tablets Consumed by Partner
5.4.4 Men's Knowledge of Partner's Antenatal Complications
5.4.5 Men's Advice for Antenatal Check up
5.4.6 Men's Attitude towards Necessity of Antenatal Check Up
5.4.7 Men's Accompaniment during Partners' Antenatal Check up
5.4.8 Decision Making on Antenatal Check up
5.4.9 Men's Attitude towards Husband's Attendance at Delivery
5.4.10 Men's Advice for Institutional Delivery
5.4.11 Men's Accompaniment at the time of Delivery
5.4.12 Men's Attitudes towards Health Risk during Postnatal Period
5.4.13 Men's Assistance during Postpartum Period
5.4.14 Spousal Communication about Health of Mother and Child
5.4.15 Men's Knowledge of Colostrum
5.4.16 Men's Advice for Breastfeeding
5.4.17 Men's Knowledge of STDs/ HIV/AIDS
5.4.18 Men's Knowledge of Partner's STDs
5.4.19 Spousal Communication about STDs/AIDS
5.4.20 Men's Accompaniment with Partner during Medical Check up of STDs
5.4.21 Men's Involvement in Maternal Health Care

5.5 Results of Multivariate Analyses

5.5.1 Men's Knowledge on Partner's Antenatal Check Up
5.5.2 Men's Knowledge of TT Injection Received by Partners
5.5.3 Men's Knowledge of Iron Tablet Consumed by Partners
5.5.4 Men's Knowledge of Partner's Antenatal Complications
5.5.5 Men's Advice for Antenatal Check up
5.5.6 Men's Attitudes towards Antenatal Check Up
5.5.7 Men's Accompaniment at the Time of Antenatal Check up
5.5.8 Decision Making on Antenatal Check up
5.5.9 Men's Attitudes towards Husband's Attendance at the Time of Delivery
5.5.10 Men's Advice for Institutional Delivery
5.5.11 Men's Accompaniment at the Time of Delivery
5.5.12 Men's Attitudes towards Health Risk during Postnatal Period
5.5.13 Men's Assistance during Postpartum Period
5.5.14 Spousal Communication about Health of Mother
5.5.15 Men's Knowledge of Colostrums
5.5.16 Men's Advice for Breastfeeding
5.5.17 Men's Knowledge of STDs/AIDS
5.5.18 Men's Knowledge of Partner's STDs
5.5.19 Spousal Communication about STDs and AIDS
5.5.20 Men's Accompaniment during Medical Check up of STDs
5.5.21 Men’s Involvement in Maternal Health Care
