ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply obliged to all those who have helped me to complete this study. I wish to express my special thanks to the following:

Dr. K. Amaliraj, my supervisor for her valuable guidance, patience, concern and support at every stage of the thesis.

Late Dr. S. Rama Devi with whom I began the study and who always said that in-service teachers require to be given opportunities for continuing their higher education.

Professor Jacob Tharu, Professor G. Rajagopal, Professor Kamlesh Sadanand, Professor Rama Matthew, Professor Lalita Eapen, Dr. Geetha Dorairajan, Dr. Shruti Sircar, Dr. Julu Sen with whom I had initial discussions of the study.

The staff of Ramesh Mohan Library, whose friendliness made the library a home.

The Dean’s Office, Mr. Babu Rao for his useful suggestions and the office staff, CIEFL.

Professor V. Prakasham, Professor K. V. Thirumalesh, Professor M.L. Tickoo, Professor S. Mohan Raj, Professor T. Sri Raman, who encouraged me with their friendly presence in the library.

My M. Phil teachers – Professor V.D. Singh, Professor R. Amritavalli, Professor S. R. Prahlad, Dr. Mukta Prahlad, Dr. Sachi Madhavan, Dr. S. Upendran who supported my enthusiasm for the study.
The Principals at Sardar Patel College, Padmaraonagar, Secunderabad, Dr. C. Pandu, Dr. T. Rayappa Reddy, Mr. A. V. Krishna, Dr. V. Ramakrishna, Dr. K. Sikinder Ali Khan.

All the teaching and non-teaching friends at Sardar Patel College.

Mrs. AVSN Mani and Mr. SR Muthu Krishnan for typing and formatting this thesis, in spite of their busy schedules.

The interested and concerned friends' group at home-Devi, Padmaja, Lakshmi, Nagamani, Chandrika, Umadevi, Shashi Kala and their husbands.

Sheba, for the useful discussions and help with the proof reading.

My late father who dreamt and talked of my study during his last days in 2001.

My husband, son, parents-in-law and family members for their continuous understanding, patience, support and deep concern for the completion of my study.

My mother, sister, brothers and family members who have made this study possible.

Several well-wishers and friends at Sardar Patel College are in my thoughts.

My students at Sardar Patel College who always wondered whenever I thanked them for samples or any miscellaneous help that I asked for.
