Table of Contents

Chapter I:
1.0 Introduction 1
1.1 The Problem 3
1.2 Organizing Concepts 7
1.3 How the Study Unfolds 8
1.4 The Perspective taken for Document Critique 11
1.5 Overview: Outline of Chapters 12

Chapter II:
2.0 Mapping Issues and Perspectives in the English Curriculum 19
2.1 The Mandal Commission Report 20
2.2 Theoretical Approaches 24
2.2.1 Deschooling and Inequality 26
2.2.2 The Hidden Curriculum and Reproduction Theory 27
2.2.3 Resistance Theory 30
2.3 Linguistic Perspectives 31
2.4 Psychological and Cognitive Perspectives 34
2.5 The Critical Pedagogy Perspective 37
2.5.1 Critical Consciousness 37
2.5.2 New literacy Studies 41
2.6 Concepts of Praxis 44
2.6.1 Inner Voice 46
2.6.2 Scaffold Assistance 47
2.6.3 Zone of Proximal Development 48
2.7 Key Issues in the Colonial Education Project 49
2.7.1 Macaulayism 50
2.7.2 The Orientalists 55
2.7.3 The Utilitarians 56
Chapter V :  5.0 Reading in the Language Classrooms  133
          5.1 Acts of Reading  133
          5.2 Representation of Education and the Role of Participation  139
          5.3 Debates and Issues Relevant for the Reading Classroom  143
            5.3.1 Dual World Order and Alienation  143
            5.3.2 Marxian Readings  145
            5.3.3 Process/Product Debate  146
            5.3.4 Genetic Code Standpoints  147
            5.3.5 The Active Reader  150
            5.3.6 Issues in the Reader Response/Reader Reception Theory  151
          5.4 Transactions in the Reading Classroom  152
            5.4.1 Textual Encounters: Reading the World in the Word  152
            5.4.2 Identity: The Question of Difference: Oral Repertoires: Adult Participation  174

Chapter VI :  Concluding Observations  189
          6.1 Review of Documents: Findings  189
          6.2 The Implications on a English Classroom in Darjeeling  192
          6.3 Solutions/Ways to Circumventing Prescriptions  197

Epilogue : Desiderata  201

Appendix-I to Appendix-VI

Bibliography