

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It has my dream since my higher ordination to go for higher studies, as I happen to come from a village where very less people have been fortunate to acquire degrees of higher studies. I am fortunate that opportunity has come across to me due to the help, contribution and co-operation I received from various people who are not only my well-wishers but are my Dhamma friends.

It would not have been possible to complete this research project successfully had it not been for the encouragement and support I received from various individuals directly and indirectly and therefore take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all of them. In expressing my heartfelt thanks to all the concerned people no amount of words of thanks can express nor can words fill the emotions that I feel while expressing my feelings.

First of all, I take this opportunity to express my thanks to my esteemed Teacher Dr. JayantiChattopadhyay, Associate Professor, Dept.of Pāli, University of Calcutta, India for giving her consent to be my Supervisor, her tutelage during the entire duration of my work, her constant reminders to meticulously immerse myself in the research work without which, this work would not have seen its timely completion.

Secondly my thoughts reach out to thank my respected teachers who have ordained me in the Sangha and trained me in following the Buddha's path, Sayadaw U Nyar Nine Da, of Barvanaryon Monastery Bago, U Naga Se Na of Saddhamma Man Daine Monastery, Sayadaw U Somasara of Shwe pougt Pin Monastery Pyay.

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my beloved parents U Nyunt Maung and Daw Htaw Myint without whose compassion I would not have been able to see the light of this world. It is their love towards me that they could donate me to the Sangha which has made it possible for me to understand the Buddha's Dhamma better and motivated me to become a scholar and reach so far in life.
