Acknowledgement

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to my Madam Professor Dr. Uma Basu, Department of Applied Mathematics, University of Calcutta for her careful and patient guidance and constant support throughout my research work. She introduced me to the area of research on water waves and related topics in Applied Mathematics when I first joined as a research scholar in Applied Mathematics Department. My association with her as a research student provided me the inspirations and encouragements for creating more and more interest to pursue the research work with enthusiasms. Throughout the period of my research she had provide me source of great strength, courage and moral support.

I am grateful to my Sir Dr. Soumen De of the same department for his guidance as the associate supervisor of the present work. His careful discussions and many advices helped me to learn the subject and to get deeper insight.

I express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Dr. B. N. Mandal, Physics and Applied Mathematics Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata for many important discussions and suggestions in my research work.

I express my sincere gratitude to all of my teachers, Department of Applied Mathematics, University of Calcutta. I also thank to all the staffs at Department of Applied Mathematics, University of Calcutta for their help and cooperation.

I convey my sincere gratitude to two most important persons in my life, my parents. Without their love, affection and care, I would not have achieved this stage of life. Their constant support, cooperation and guidance through life provided me with necessary encouragement to complete this research work. I also thank to my colleagues and friends for their continuous supports, inspirations and some enjoyable moments.
Lastly, I am thankful to Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi for the award of a Junior Research Fellowship and during the tenure of which many of the work presented in the thesis is completed. CSIR and Department of Applied Mathematics, University of Calcutta also provided me with various facilities to carry out my research work.
