AIM AND OBJECTIVES

AIM

- To assess the heat stress and its impacts on health of workers from different occupational sectors

OBJECTIVES

- To profile the heat stress using environmental heat stress measurements in various occupational sectors
- To assess the perceptions about heat stress among workers from various occupational sectors
- To assess the impacts of heat stress on health of the workers using select physiological variables

HYPOTHESIS

- Exposure to occupational heat stress alters the physiological parameters and results in health impacts among workers