ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First, I would like to venerate the Almighty for his benevolence, thanks galore for seeing me through the trials and tribulations of life till now.

Foremost, I would like to express my deep sense of indebtedness to my supervisor Dr. Pratibindhya Nayak, Professor and Head, School of Physics, Sambalpur University, Odisha, for his able guidance and pedagogic supervision at every stage of this work. His innovative methods and inspirational guidance have largely contributed to the conceptualization of the form and content of this work. In spite of his busy schedules and overwhelming responsibilities, he always extended full focus of my thoughts and have greatly promoted me to complete this work up to this standard. For which I will ever be grateful to him.

I would like to express my obligation to Dr. K. K. Nanda, Material Research Centre, Indian Institute of Science (IISC), Bangalore, for his helpful discussion on various aspects related to this work and sparing his valuable time with me.

Again I would like to thank all of my teachers and non-teaching staffs of School of Physics, Sambalpur University for their help to carry out this work. In particular, it's my pleasure to thank Dr. Banarji Behera, School of Physics, for his friendly piece of advice for completing this work.

I am also obligated to Mrs. Bharati Panda (Madam) who have motivated me for completing this difficult task and inspired me at every stage of my research work.

I would like to thank Bibhuti Parida, Research Scholar, TIFR, Mumbai, who helped and suggested me in various ways from the very beginning of our research work at Sambalpur University.

I want to express thanks to Kalta Sir, Rakesh Bhai, Nilaya, Sushil, Santosh, Ajay, Mrutunjaya and many more of my friends for their cooperation and valuable support whenever required. Also I would like to give thanks to my friends who have inspired me to do this work and be ever grateful to all of those who have directly or indirectly helped me in their own way for completing this work.

I would again like to express my thanks to Dr. Md. N. Khan, Asst. Professor, Indira Gandhi Institute of Technology (IGIT), Sarang and all my colleagues of IGIT, Sarang for their constant cooperation when ever needed.

Life is miserable without parents and beloved ones. I cannot forget the pain that my parents have taken throughout my studies. It is only because of their constant support, encouragement, prayers and blessings that I could overcome from all frustration and failures. I bow my head with indebtedness from the core of my heart to my beloved parents. Finally, thanking to all my family members, near and dear ones, for their affection, inspiration and anticipation at every stage of my life.
