Acknowledgement

This thesis arose in part out of years of research that has been done since I enrolled as a Ph.D. Student in the Centre for International Politics, Organization and Disarmament, (CIPOD), School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. By that time, I have worked with a great number of people whose contribution in assorted ways to the research and the making of the thesis deserved special mention. It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude to them all in my humble acknowledgment. In the first place I would like to record my gratitude to Dr. S.S Deora for his supervision, advice and guidance from the very early stage of this research as well as giving me extraordinary experiences throughout the work. Above all and the most needed, he provided me unflinching encouragement and support in various ways. He also provided me with permission to be on the field trip to Japan for carrying out the empirical studies. Beside that he also encouraged me to participate in various international conferences on Climate Change held in Copenhagen, Geneva, Malmo and Colombo by providing his valuable permission letter. I am indebted to Deora Sir. I am also thankful to Prof. Rajesh Rajagopalan, Chairperson of CIPOD for his initiatives and permission to carry out my field trip to Tokyo and Yokohama.

Many thanks go in particular to Mr. Yashitaka Kitamura, Assistant Coordinator, DIET, Tokyo for giving me valuable advice during my stay in Tokyo. I am much indebted to Ocean Policy Research Foundation (OPRF), Tokyo for the cooperation they provided me in critical moments. I have also been benefited by the advice and guidance from Mr. Kazumine Akimoto, Senior Research Fellow of OPRF, Tokyo who kindly granted me his time even for answering some of my unintelligent questions and helping me out with materials for my research. I gratefully thank Ms. Catherine Vivar Oda, Research Fellow of OPRF for her constructive comments in carrying out my work. I am thankful to Mr. Yusuke Seto, Section Chief, International Policy Planning Office. Ports and Harbours, Tokyo, Japan, Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism for his help in visiting Tokyo Port and his reference was vital for my visit to Yokohama Port.

It is a pleasure to pay tribute also to Yokohama Public Port Corporation for their help. I was also benefited by Japan Railway Staff, Japan Public Library and Annex Asakosa Hostel, Tokyo for making my stay comfortable. I would also express my gratitude to Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) for funding my field trip. Library staffs of JNU, University of Tokyo And Delhi University. I need to mention the help received from Institute for Defence and Studies Analyses (IDSA) library for collecting materials and also to Global Passage Travels, New Delhi for arranging my air tickets.

I am very grateful to The Japan Foundation, New Delhi for the cooperation I received from them and here I would specially mention the name of Sangam Kumari for her assistance in helping me with books and research materials. I was extraordinarily fortunate in having Mahendra Prakash for the guidance he provided me before my field trip and the initiatives he showed in answering my queries. Words fail to express my appreciation for the help I received from him. I would like to convey my special thanks to Akshay, because of his initiatives, it would have been possible for us to do the field visits. My sincere thanks go to Kumar Veer Dhirendra/KVD for immensely helping me out with the GIS maps and patiently bearing with me. Without his cooperation and contribution I would not have inserted any of the GIS Maps in this thesis. Thanks go to Aradhana, Ramesh, Cheetalmal Meena for helping me out at crucial moments. Also I would like to give my sincere thanks to Poornima for typing some portion of my thesis, formatting and editing the chapters and her friendly gestures really helped me to carry out my work. Without Sujata's cooperation I would not have prepared any of the charts and diagrams, therefore I would like to thank her also.

My parents deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My father in the first place is the person who showed me the path to the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My mother is the one who sincerely raised me with her caring and gentle love. A special word of thanks to my dear sister Sahej, who has constantly supported me in all my life’s ambition and has unselfishly let her intelligence, passions and ambitions collide with mine. Finally, I would like to thank my relatives and everybody who was important to the successful realization of this thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention them personally.
