ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my moral responsibility and privilege to express my profound sense of gratitude to my teachers who directly or indirectly contributed in generating strength in me to venture for this work. I express my deep sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. Hrudananda Pradhan, Reader, Lajpat Rai Law College, Sambalpur for his able guidance and constant supervision. I am thankful to Dr. P. Panda, Department Of Anthropology, Sambalpur University for his support. In fact, he is the spirit behind my interest and involvement for the work. I express deep gratitude to Madam, Dr. (Mrs.) H. Samantaraya who helped me in expediting the progress.

I am indebted to the authorities of the Department of Home, Govt. of Orissa, and more particularly to I.G., D.I.G., Prisons of Orissa, Superintendent of the Jails, Dr. J.B. Sarangi, Sambalpur district jail and other prison authorities whose cooperation and good will at different phases of time helped me a lot to gauge myself and made me write this thesis. I am indebted to the prison inmates for their valuable cooperation and support in supplying me the required information inside the jails. Some of the family members of the jail inmates emotionally expressed the facts of life and also deserve sympathy and acknowledgement. The blessings of my revered professional Guru, Sri Gangadhar Rath, Former Advocate General-cum-Senior Advocate, Orissa High Court helped me a lot to develop fortitude for the work, which can offer mental solace and tranquility.

The contribution of my parents and well wishers are the invisible blessings on me and I feel that their intangible support must have given me strength to march ahead through this troubled restless research routes. My thanks are due to my wife Mami, daughters Guddy and Lory for their encouragement and concern all through the process in completing the work. My clients who with all difficulties waited to receive my consultancies for their individual legal cases deserve ample thanks.

My thanks are due to Mr. Sasanka Sekhar Tripathy, a scholar in English language, Mr. S.S. Tripathy and his staff of Tripathy Xerox, Cuttack, Mr. B. Mohanty (Sipu) and Mr. Manoj Kr. Swain the excellent computer skilled personnel for whose timely association and ungrudging help has made the work presentable to my revered examiners, readers, critics and commentators.

I offer this work along with all that I possess as a part of my intellectual property to my deity "Lord Jagannath".
