Acknowledgement

I sincerely acknowledge a deep sense of gratitude to the two profound personalities who have initiated me into this task of research on Sambalpuri and have helped me all through my work. First, my revered Supervisor Dr. Kunjaban Patel, who spotted a strain of research potentiality in me and encouraged me, through his advice and guidance, which ultimately led to the completion of this research work. He made the Stevensonian obstinate mule that I was work. He ungrudgingly took the pains of being with me in my frequent visits to the CIEFL, Hyderabad so that my work would get going. In fact, but for him my work would not have seen the light of day.

Second, my father Sri Yudhisthir Sahu, who helped me in every respect not only by bearing the day-to-day household responsibilities but also by giving me constant help in the academic aspects of my project.

I am grateful to Prof. Haldhar Panda, Retired Professor of English, PG Dept. of English, Sambalpur University for his insightful suggestions and constant encouragement.

I express my indebtedness to Dr. Nilmadhab Panigrahi, a pioneer in the field of Sambalpuri language research as well as in Sambalpuri literature, who unhesitatingly lent me his manuscripts, later published as a book, and for giving his valuable suggestions on various aspects of the language.
I am thankful to the authorities of the UGC (Eastern Region) for providing me a teacher fellowship which enabled me to complete the work.

My thanks are also due to the authorities of G.M.College (Autonomous), Sambalpur and the Dept. of English for allowing me to join the institute as a Teacher Fellow.

I am deeply thankful to Prof. M. Bhoi, my revered teacher and presently the HOD of English, G.M.College (Autonomous), Sambalpur for his kind cooperation in allowing a free hand in carrying out my research project during the tenure of the UGC fellowship.

I thank Prof. Shraddhakar Patel, Retired Principal, Prof. D. K. Nayak, the present Principal, members of the Dept. of English, the Librarians and other colleagues of L.N.College, Jharsuguda for their encouragement and help.

I am thankful to all the members of the Central library, Sambalpur University, especially Mrs. Rajkumari Panda and Mr. Biswanath Behera; Mr. J.K.Patel, Librarian Kuchinda College, Kuchinda and the members of the Ramesh Mohan library, CIEFL, Hyderabad especially Sathya who, considering my physical limitations, made the books and journals come to me. I appreciate their help and cooperation.
I am also thankful to all the members of my family especially my daughter Nivedita and son Satyabrata, who willingly allowed me to grab the time that I owed to them.

Last, but by no means the least, I express my heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Dharitri Patel, wife of my Supervisor, my friend Dr. Udit P. Thakur and his wife Mrs. Sujata Thakur for all their words of encouragement.

I must say whatever errors and shortcomings remain in the work are my own.

(Gopal Krishna Sahu) 24/7/2002

Lecturer in English
L.N.College, Jharsuguda