BIBLIOGRAPHY

Primary Sources

NOVELS

Short Stories

Non-Fiction

Kautilya's Concept of Diplomacy: A New Interpretation.

Literary Essays:

Works in Collaboration

(a) With Clark Blasise:

The Sorrow and Terror: The Haunting Legacy of Air India Tragedy.

(b) With Robert Boyers:

“A Conversation with V.S. Naipaul.” Salmagundi, 54 (Fall 1981), 4-22.

Secondary Sources

Aneja, Anu. Jasmine, “The Sweet Scent of Exile Pacific Coast Philosophy”
Sep V 28 (1). 1993, Print.
Arcdeacon, Thomas J. Becoming American, An Ethnic History, New York:
____ Survival: A Thematic Guide To Canadian Literature, Toronto: Ansasi,
1972, Print.
Ansasi, Shyam M. and Rajpal, Deepika. “Identity Crisis in the Nowhere Man
____ “A Calcutta Childhood: Bharati Mukerjee’s Awakening to “Otherness”
The Telegraph, Autumn collection, September 1995, Print.
Alladi, Uma. Women and her Family: Indian and Afro American – A Literary Ashcroft, Bill. G. Griffles and H. Tiffin, The Empire Writes Back: Theory and Practice in Postcolonial Literature, London: New Delhi: Routledge,
1989, Print.

Blaise, Clark and Bharti Mukharjee. The Sorrow and the Terror :The Haunting Legacy of the Air India Tragedy. Ontario, Canada : Markham, 1987, Print.

Economist, the “Immigrants more American than Natives,” Times of India, May 20, 1995, Print.

Eliot, T.S. Notes Towards The Definition of Culture. Encyclopedia, Britannica Faber, 1948, Print.

230

_____ Impact of Immigration to California. The Urban Institute: December 1986, Print.

______ Interview in the Hindustan Times, Feb 9, 1990, Print.

______ Interview in the Times of India Oct 1 1989, Print.

Moyers, Bill D.- Conquering America-Interview with Bharati Mukherjee. Public Affairs Television PBS Video, Funded by the MC foundation, Cassette Recording.

241

243

247

