"Though the lore of the Vedas takes up its dwelling on your tongue,
Though you be learned in scripture, gifted in writing prose and verse,
Yet if the mind be not absorbed in the guru's lotus feet,
What will it all avail you? What, indeed, will it all avail?"

(Adi Sankaracharya's Guruvashitakam, verse 3)

I am deeply indebted to Prof. Mohan Ramanan, my research supervisor, whose inimitable qualities as a Guru have initiated me, stood me in good stead and seen me through this challenging enterprise.

My respects to H.H. Swami Jnanananda Saraswati whose blessings guide my path.

I owe a great deal to Prof. Alladi Uma for providing theoretical insights into the genre of autobiography and for reading and commenting on the draft.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. P. Sailaja for sharing her insights into spirituality and for reading and commenting on the draft.

I am grateful to Prof. Sudhakar Marathe for drawing my attention to the relevance of the Bhakti movement and to Ms. Meera Marathe for facilitating my interview with Shri Krishna Chintaman Marathe.

I am obliged to Prof. Narayana Chandran for testing my attention to the fundamentals of the texts, for throwing intellectual challenges and for facilitating my meeting with Prof. Vinod Sena in Delhi.

To Prof. Satchidananda Mohanty for facilitating my research in Delhi, I express my gratitude.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. M. Sivaramakrishna for finding time to enlighten me on Indian spiritual literature.

I wish to express my gratitude to Prof. Vinod Sena for giving me insights into Purohit Swami’s life and times.
I am obliged to Swami Satchidananda of Anandashram, Kanhangad, Kerala for providing me insights into the life and times of Swami Ramdas and for letting me stay in the ashram.

I respectfully remember Guru Nityachaitanya Yati for sending me a copy of Nataraja Guru's Autobiography of an Absolutist and Sri Shri Krishna Chintaman Marathe for sharing with me his insights into the Bhakti movement.

Dr. Chitra Panikkar, for enabling clarity of thought, thank you.

I thank Dr. Uday Kumar, Dept. of English, Delhi University for his suggestions on my approaches to Gandhiji.

To Dr. Rajiv Krishnan for his graphic account of Mother Krishna Bai and sparing his copy of the Autobiography of Mother Krishna Bai, I am extremely grateful.

I thank Dr. Sanjay Palshikar for evincing interest in my work and for directing me to Joan Bondurant's study on Gandhiji.

To Dr. Rama Rao for letting me read his unpublished thesis on Paramahansa Yogananda I am thankful.

I thank Prof. V. Ramakrishna for sparing his copy of Pt. Sivanath Sastri's History of the Brahma Samaj.

Dr. Sashibhushan, Retired Scientist and President of the Kakinada Brahma Samaj, Kakinada, allowed me to use his personal library, shared his views as a Brahmait and sent me his personal copy of Sitanath Tattvabhushan's Philosophy of Brahmatism.

I express my gratitude to Ms. Rajyalakshmi, the first woman president of the Kakinada Brahma Samaj and adopted daughter of Kandukuri Veerashalingam, for sharing her views and experiences as a Brahmi in spite of her failing memory.

To Mr. U.M. Sankar Das for entrusting me with The Selected Works of Mahatma Gandhi from his personal collection and for being a constant source of encouragement, I am obliged.
I thank Dr. Kalpana Kannabiran for drawing my attention to The Memoirs of Dr. Haimabathi Sen.

I thank Prof. M.V. Subba Rao for facilitating my stay in Kakinada for research.

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to Ms. Nandula Sushila Devi and Dr. Rajyalakshmi in Kakinada for their warm hospitality during my stay at Kakinada.

Mr. Neelakandan, Librarian of the Anandashram, helped me to make effective use of the library during my stay at the ashram and Ms. Thankamma and Ms. Rajini made my stay there a memorable experience by their solicitude.

I am particularly grateful to Mr. D.S. Rautela, the Manuscript Section In-charge at the Nehru Memorial Library, for helping with the Purohit Swami Papers.

Thank you Sri Kumar for taking pains to grab a copy of Bahina Bai's Autobiography from Pune, Varadarajan for making me feel that I have not read enough and Srividya for leaving behind her copy of G.N.Devy's After Amnesia.

I remember Hariettan for directing me to the Connemara Public Library, Chennai and I thank Vinuettan for conducting my library trips.

Mr. Nagarajan and Mr. Raja of the Dept. of English, University of Hyderabad and Ms. B. Nagalakshmi and Mr. Anil Sharat, NALSAR University of Law, provided logistic support and I thank them sincerely.

The IACIS Library, Hyderabad, Connemara Public Library, Chennai, Nehru Memorial Library, New Delhi, Anandashram Library, Kanhangad, Indira Gandhi Memorial Library, University of Hyderabad and NALSAR University of Law Library provided materials for my research. I thank the library staff for their support.

During the initial years of my research I enjoyed a generous scholarship from the Nehru Memorial Fund. I thank the authorities of the Fund for facilitating my research.

My thanks to Sridevi Sankar Das and family, Sudha Akka, Sowmya and Bharat for adopting me.

The NALSAR family provided a platform for my own Karma Yoga.
Prof. Ranbir Singh, Director, NALSAR University of Law, and Prof. A. Lakshminath, Registrar, NALSAR and my colleagues, Prof. Amita Dhanda, Mr. Ghanshyam Singh, Dr. Vijender Kumar, Dr. Sridhar, Mr. Srikrishnadeva Rao and Dr. R.V. Ramana Murthy extended full co-operation when research threatened to lock horns with my teaching and wardenship. To them my heartfelt thanks.

My students at NALSAR looked forward to my 'submission' and shared my interest in Gandhiji as a jurist.

Sindhu Menon, Angelina, Surya Rekha, and Shikha Bhatia shared gallons of coffee and ideas during HCU days.

Aruna, Padmaja, Samata and Sharat were instrumental in associating me with the Yogoda Satsanga Society of India established by Paramahansa Yogananda.

I thank Dr. Jolly Puthussery and Mr. Biju Sreedharan for their encouragement.

I owe thanks to Mr. S. Saipps for directing me to Natya Shastra and Rasaroopakam.

And to my Achan and Amma I owe everything and my debt is beyond words.
