Contents

Acknowledgement ......................................................................................... i-iv
List of Figures ................................................................................................... ix
List of Tables .................................................................................................. x
List of Photographs ............................................................................................ xi-xii
List of Abbreviation ........................................................................................... xiii

1. INTRODUCTION .......................................................................................... 1-4
   1.1 Background and Theoretical Literature .................................................... 1
   1.2 Motivation .................................................................................................. 3
   1.3 Objective .................................................................................................. 3
   1.4 Chapterisation ........................................................................................... 4

2. AN OVERVIEW OF SHIFTING CULTIVATION: SPREAD, DIVERSITY, AND CHANGE ........................................................................................................ 5-19
   2.1 History ..................................................................................................... 5
   2.2 Geographic Spread and Importance ........................................................... 6
   2.3 Basic Characteristics of Shifting Cultivation .............................................. 7
   2.4 Shifting Cultivation in the North-East India: The Jhum Cultivation ...... 8-11
      2.4.1 Geographic Spread of Jhum
      2.4.2 Types of Jhum Cultivation in the North East India
   2.5 Controversies Surrounding Shifting Cultivation ........................................ 11-19
      2.5.1 Outsider’s View
      2.5.2 Critique of Outsider’s View
      2.5.3 Insider’s View
   2.6 Hypotheses and Research Questions ...................................................... 19

3. THE FIELD DIARY .................................................................................... 20-40
3.1 General Information
- 3.1.1 Nagaland – Geographical Information
- 3.1.2 Ecozones of Nagaland
- 3.1.3 Naga Culture and Jhum
- 3.1.4 Legislations on Jhum Cultivation
- 3.1.5 Land Tenure System

3.2 Religious and Socio-Cultural Characteristics of Nagaland
- 3.2.1 Religious Faiths of Indigenous Nagas
- 3.2.2 The Advent of Colonial Education – The Role of the Missionaries
- 3.2.3 Characteristic of a Naga Village

3.3 Sample Area for the Present Study
- 3.3.1 Issues and Questions for the Field Visits

3.4 Field Diary

4. Indigenous Knowledge System and the Practice of Jhum

4.1 Introduction

4.2 Understanding Local or Traditional Knowledge System
- 4.2.1 The Background
- 4.2.2 ‘Indigenous’ and ‘traditional’ Knowledge System: Definitional Issues
- 4.2.3 The Genesis of Modern Science

4.3 Modern Science and Indigenous Science: Is a Reconciliation Possible?
- 4.3.1 Pseudoscience: a border between modern and indigenous science
- 4.3.2 Modern/Academic Science and Indigenous Science: Similarities, Differences and Synthesis

4.4 ‘Science’ in Indigenous Knowledge: Some Empirical Evidences

4.5 Indigenous Science in Jhum: A Primary Data Based Analysis of Shifting Cultivation in Nagaland
4.5.1 Introduction
4.5.2 Site Selection and Clearing
4.5.3 Burning
4.5.4 Weeding and Protecting
4.5.5 Planting
4.5.6 Crop Diversity
4.5.7 Harvesting, Yields and Processing
4.5.8 Succession and Rotation
4.5.9 Protecting Seeds and Grains from Rodents
4.5.10 A Synthesis of Findings

5. INNOVATION IN JHUM

5.1 Introduction
5.2 Innovation – An Overview of Relevant Literature
  5.2.1 Introduction
  5.2.2 Understanding the Process of Innovation
5.3. Diffusion: A Review of the Sociological Literature
  5.3.1 The Basic Concept
  5.3.2 The Elements of Diffusion
  5.3.3 A discussion
5.4. Innovation in Non-market Societies
5.5 Synthesis and Research Question
5.6 Innovations in Jhum: The Case of Nagaland
  5.6.1 Local Innovations
  5.6.2 Innovation through collaborative efforts
  5.6.3 Local Innovations and Collaborative Innovations: Analysing their Similarities and Differences

6 LOCAL INSTITUTIONS AND INNOVATION IN JHUM

6.1 Objective
6.2 Institutions: an Analytical Framework
  6.2.1 Definitions of Institutions