ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Research is a challenging task replete with several hurdles and hindrances which a researcher has to overcome in order to achieve the goal. At this stage, a beginner needs emotional and conceptual help in the form of motivation and feedback.

The present research owes this shape to the supervision of Prof. Aslam Mahmood and Dr. Anuradha Banerjee, who took great pains to steer me through this research. They provided me mental strength and encouragement at every stage. In spite of their hectic schedule and health constraints, they were always ready to guide me with a warm smile.
