Acknowledgements

This doctorate would not have seen the light of day without inexhaustible patience, constant encouragement, able and scholarly guidance and personal interest of my supervisor Prof. Varun Sahni. I express my deep sense of gratitude to him for channelizing my potentials in the right direction. Sir, I could learn as much as I wanted in the beginning. So only I received and received properly several scoldings during the last six years. I am not very sure how those scoldings enhanced the quality of this research but I promise, if I remain in academic line, to provide more opportunities to you for scolding me in the future.

I express my heartfelt thank to Prof. Kanti Bajpai and Prof. O.P. Bakshi for providing intellectual stimulation as well as material assistance whenever required.

I have benefited a lot from the support provided by Prof. Amitabh Mattoo, Prof. C.S.R. Murthy, Prof. Mansingh and Dr. Banshidhar Pradhan.

I cheerfully acknowledge the facilities provided by the staff of the JNU Library, Nehru Memorial Museum Library, American Center Library, British Council Library and Institute of Defence Studies and Analyses. Mr. Ved Prakash Gupta of DSA Library in JNU was of immense help in the final phase of the doctorate.

My friends and me are enigma for each other. Mine is a somewhat mystified, if not glorified, relation with my friends and foes. I am once again not very sure what and how much I have learnt from them. But I fondly acknowledge their debt for making me dislearn some of the teachings and values I once fondly cherished in my life.

The road to my heart leads through K. D. Despite his best efforts to convert me into his intimate enemy I tend to emphasize intimacy. Over the last six years I have shared with him some of the best, happiest and the moments of my life. I hope but do not expect from him to understand the ocean of feelings that overwhelms me sometimes. After his marriage it is reasonable on my part to expect more sobriety in his personally otherwise extremely loud personality. I bless him and his wife Shashi all happiness of life. I cannot forget Ayaz, Hafeez, Ajit, Sandeepni, Anil, Neeladri, Sanjay, Mahesh with whom I have stayed for seven years in J.N.U.

I am thankful to my seniors Narendra and Chandrajeet. I thank my class fellows Shivaji, Vaidya, Ritu, Madan and Namrata.

I am thankful to the staff of Arpan Photostat for typing the script in the last moment with great fun and cheerfulness.

My life, at least in its present form, is no more than an apology to my family. In the absence of scholarship from some institute and any other source of funding I would have starved on the road without the support of my family. It is the principal regret of my student life that I could not obtain any scholarship despite lot of sincere and honest efforts. In its absence everything from funding to emotional support was provided by the family. My life will be in conceivable with out them. It is my moral obligation, therefore, to dedicate this doctorate to them with deep sense of guilt, gratitude, and tearful eyes.

Finally and the most importantly I thank God for keeping me alive and making me whatever I am.

It goes without saying I am solely responsible for the doctorate in its present form.

Vivek Mohan Dubey

New Delhi

31.07.2006