ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to express my deep gratitude and obligation to Dr. Amareswar Mishra, Ph.D., Lecturer in Political Science, Utkal University, my guide and supervisor for his intensive devotion in providing illuminating guidance in completing this research work.

I am also thankful to Dr. S.N. Rath, D.Litt., Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science, Utkal University for granting me permission in carrying out this research work in the Department of Political Science and constantly encouraging me in this direction. I am equally thankful to Dr.(Mrs.) Sharada Rath, Professor of Political Science, Utkal University for her valuable suggestions in this regard.

I am grateful to Sri Pradip Kumar Mohapatra, Lecturer in Geography, Government College, Bhawanipatna for helping me in drawing the maps and diagrams for this work.

I express my gratitude to Dr. R.N. Tripathy, Director, Centre for Micro Planning, N.I.R.D., Hyderabad and Dr. F.M. Pradhan, Research Associate, N.I.R.D. for their help and encouragement. I am thankful to Sri R.C. Pillai, Deputy Divisional Manager, Syndicate Bank, Divisional Office, Bhubaneswar for his valuable suggestions.

I am grateful to the authorities and the Librarians of National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad; Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi; Social Science Documentation Centre, Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi; National Library, Calcutta; Parija Library, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar; Orissa University of Agriculture and Technology, Bhubaneswar; Orissa State Archives; State Library, Bhubaneswar; Orissa Legislative Assembly; Gopabandhu Academy of Administration, Bhubaneswar; Bureau of Statistics and Economics, Government of Orissa, Bhubaneswar; Vivekananda Library, Bhubaneswar and Syndicate Bank, Divisional Office, Bhubaneswar for permitting me to consult their valuable collections for the purpose of the study. I also thank the authorities of D.R.D.A, Cuttack, Lead Bank Office, Cuttack, Reserve Bank of India, Bhubaneswar and the Block Development Officers of Biridi, Dharmasala, Marshaghai and Nischintakoili for making available the relevant records and data for my study.

I would like to thank the management of Syndicate Bank for having permitted me to undertake this research work. I also express my thanks to my colleagues in the Divisional Office as well as in the branches who have helped me in conducting the field study.
I convey my deep sense of gratitude to the respondents consisting of rural people and the bank officials for their co-operation and response without which the study could not have been completed. I express my thanks to Sri B. T. Rao for typing out the dissertation. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my wife Sneha for her constant encouragement and co-operation for completing this onerous task.

While the credit for this work must go to the above mentioned well-wishers and friends, I alone am responsible for the shortcomings and lapses that the work might have contained.

Finally, the thesis is dedicated to my parents whose blessings have sustained me all throughout this research work.
