ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is indeed an arduous task to commit to memory and recall all those who had knowingly or the otherwise and implicitly or explicitly rendered their valuable assistance in a variety of ways in the course of my long journey in the direction of realising this thesis that gradually became harsher towards the closing stages owing to my own health. However, I do not permit that to deprive me of an opportunity to cherish the ways in which I enriched my understanding of an overwhelmingly complex issue that I dealt with here, undoubtedly with the help of many individuals who not only shaped my perceptions and broadened my awareness but supported me in various ways on countless occasions. Therefore, I am unduly privileged to acknowledge here the valuable contributions they have made during the course of my journey.

I would like to express my sincere heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. Gulshan Dietl for her guidance, patience and parental concern. I am deeply indebted to her for being overtly kind enough, particularly when I was struggling hard to negotiate with my health during the crucial stage of work. I could hardly have asked for more but only thank the almighty for having someone who could compassionately empathise with me in her at a time when I thought 'it is all over'.

I am immensely thankful to Dr. Anwar Alam who in fact was primarily responsible for evoking my keenness and nurturing my ideas however little or ridiculous they were, on the subject that took shape here as a doctoral thesis. My massive debts are due to him for his insights, wide knowledge and careful scholarship and above all else thorough guidance that I had an opportunity to benefit from for nearly five years.

I am extremely thankful to the Gulf Studies Programme (GSP) for the Research Fellowship which enabled me to sustain my studies and complete my research work successfully. In this regard I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. S.N. Malakar, Director, and Dr. H.A. Nazmi, Documentation Officer, Gulf Studies Programme for their valuable assistance and encouragement.
I would like to express my thanks to Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) for providing me with financial assistance to undertake my field work to Kuwait which augmented in several ways my research. In this regard, I would like to place on record my genuine thanks to Mr. M.A. Jawaid Assistant Director (IC), ICSSR for his efficiency and timely help in processing my grant to make my field trip possible as planned in advance.

I owe my greatest appreciation to Kuwait Embassy Information Office, Kuwait Embassy, New Delhi and in particular Mr. Mubarak Owaidah Al-Ajmi, Information Attache, for their encouragement to visit Kuwait and providing me with all necessary details that made my visit free of any trouble. I am extremely thankful to Mr. Shaikh Mubarak Al Du'aaj Al Sabah, Under Secretary, Ministry of Information, Kuwait, Mr. Abdalla Al Khaldi, Director, Department of Foreign Media, Ministry of Information and Mr. Khaled H.D.Z. Al-Razni, Ministry of Information for their support and encouragement at the time of my trip to Kuwait. A special mention is in fact required here to acknowledge and appreciate Ms. Haya Adel AlFouzan, for all the help she provided me in collecting the required material necessary for my research and meeting with dignitaries and scholars. Had it not been her I would have undoubtedly been found myself lost in a tiny but thoroughly alien environment.

I am grateful to the faculty of the Department of Political Science, Kuwait University, Kuwait particularly Dr. Ghanim al najer, Dr. Abdul Reda Assiri, Dr. Hamed Al-Abdullah, and Dr. Abdullah Al Shayeji, for sharing their valuable time and providing me with very useful insights that to a great extent enhanced my perceptions on the topic.

I wish to convey my thanks to the authorities and staff members of the Kuwait University library, Kuwait, Centre for Research and Studies on Kuwait, Kuwait, Jawaharlal Nehru University library, Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi and Institute of Defence Studies and Analysis for their generosity and cooperation in providing access to their respective libraries and other related information. I am also grateful to the office staff in general and Mrs. Sonia and Mr. Dhyaniji in particular, of the Centre for west Asian and African Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi.
I wish to express my heartfelt gratefulness and appreciation to Madhavi, Madhavi Latha and Kannan for their help in times of need and persistent encouragement to complete my research. Finally, a special mention of thanks and gratitude to all my friends in Ajay, Manoj, Srikant, Ginu, Suvarna, Bhavana, Mahesh, Peter, Alfred, Khatib, Prasant, Dharma, John Suresh, Srisailam and Arun for having been truly friendly and forthcoming during the course of my life here.

I take this opportunity to express my innermost sense of gratitude to my beloved parents for ever remaining an unvarying source of strength, support and encouragement and parents-in-law for their love, affection and concern in my well being.

I owe this work to a great deal to my husband, Robert, who has been a constant source of inspiration that at times bordered on annoyance and cooperation during the course of my research and who has also been unimaginably patient during my ill health and insisted me to be positive to complete my work and without whose help this research just would not have been possible.
