ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I take this opportunity for expressing my sincere gratitude and thanks to all persons, associated with me in their capacities during the course of my present research work. I am morally bound to offer my heartiest gratitude to the University of Gauhati, an institution of higher learning for providing me an opportunity for completion of this study.

With all my honesty and regards, I offer my heartfelt gratitude to my esteemed supervisor, Dr. Stuti Deka (Baruah), Associate Professor, Department of Law, University of Gauhati for her precious guidance, scholarly suggestions, kind supervision and encouraging cooperation throughout the progress of this work. I will always remain highly indebted to her for enabling me to complete the present work by her fast and judicious review of my research work, in spite of her busy schedule. She has been a tower of support throughout the work, in more ways than I can count.

It is my proud privilege to mention the invaluable guidance and suggestions made by Dr. Shubhram Rajkhowa, Professor, Department of Law, Gauhati University, Guwahati at different stages of my research work. His extremely spot-on suggestions and references whenever I brought in a point for discussion are really countable.
I am extremely grateful to Prof. R.C. Barpatragohain, Head of the Department of Law, Gauhati University, Guwahati for his help and cooperation. I also convey my heartfelt gratitude to all the faculty members, office staff of the Department of Law, Gauhati University for their help and support, during the course of this study.

I offer my thanks to the Dibrugarh University, Dibrugarh for allowing me to continue this doctoral research programme.

I thankfully acknowledge the help and cooperation extended to me to gain access to research materials available in the library by the Librarian and staff of various libraries viz. Library of Department of Law and KK Handique Library of Gauhati University, Judges’ Library of Gauhati High Court, Library of Gauhati Commerce College, Guwahati, Lakhminath Bezbarua Library of Dibrugarh University, Library of Kanoi Commerce College, Dibrugarh, Joikar Library of Pune University, Pune, ILS Law College Library, Pune.

I am hugely indebted to dear student friend Kaveri Bhattacharyya, a student of Centre for Juridical Studies, Dibrugarh University, who has read the entire draft and very closely proof-read it, in a surprisingly little time.

I would like to extend my gratefulness to my parents and parents in laws for showing me the paths of courage through their own lives and to my elder brother Sofiqul Islam for guiding me in many ways in preparing this thesis and taking pains of patient hearing, correcting mistakes. I am also indebted to my younger brother Jehirul Islam for sharing my pains as his own at different point of time during this course of study.

I convey my gratefulness to my wife Parbin who has shared my pains and happiness through the process of this work, and enriched me with her ideas and comments for the work. I offer my thanks to my little daughter Shirin also who has taken pains of travelling with me to different places during the course of study and sharing my time with this thesis which was exclusively meant for her.

I am also thankful to proprietor and staff of the “A.C. Computer Networld” Dibrugarh University Market Complex for their sincere efforts in printing out the thesis.

Finally, I wish to acknowledge the help, support and cooperation of all those people whose names have not been mentioned individually here.

Dated: (Baharul Islam)