ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is an occasion to offer my indebtedness to those whose sincere co-operation and valuable guidance was received during the preparation of this research work.

The completion of this research work is only possible due to the financial help from The Ministry of Welfare (Tribal Development Division), Government of India, received vide No. 11024/44/1997-TDCR.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed guide Dr. S. C. Sahoo, former Professor Department of Business Administration, Utkal University and Co-guide Dr. P. K. Mishra, Reader in Anthropology, Government College, Phulbani for their sincere guidance and inspiration in completing this project.

I am equally thankful to all the respondents for their free and fair opinion without whose co-operation the research project would not have been a success.

I am indebted to the District Collector, Divisional Forest Officer, Kandhamal, Managing Directors, Orissa Forest Development Corporation, Tribal Development Co-operative Corporation of Orissa Ltd. And Tribal Co-operative Marketing Development Federation of India for their help, cooperation and suggestions.
My special thanks are due to authorities of Orissa University of Agriculture and Technology, Nabakrushna Choudhury Centre for Development Studies, Harekrushna Mahatab State Library, Scheduled Caste & Scheduled Tribe Research and Training Institute (SCSTRTI), and Orissa Secretariat Library.

I am greatly indebted to my parents Mr. Bhabani Prasad Mohapatra & Mrs. Usharani Mohapatra, brother Lalu and husband B. K. Mohapatra for their encouragement and cooperation in more than one way to complete this work.

Last but not the least, Sitansu Sekhar Mohapatra and Bhabani Mishra deserve my thanks for computerizing my thesis.
