ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
Since a thesis cannot be produced in isolation, it is my proud privilege to acknowledge, express my debt and mention about all those, but for whose cooperation this work would not have come to its present form.

In writing this thesis, the most distinctive contribution has been of my esteemed supervisor, Prof. Rakesh Gupta, who has been the prime mover behind this work. It is difficult for me to express my gratitude and indebtedness for his prudent suggestion, incessant inspiration, scholastic criticism and above all able guidance which cleared my blurred vision. I owe my special appreciation to Mrs. Gupta, Jayant, Sikha and others who constantly encouraged me during this exercise.

I am extremely thankful to the faculty members of Centre for Political Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, for their cooperation and encouragement ever since I started working on this thesis.

I remain beholden to the distinguished dignitaries whom I have interviewed during my research to make my study empirically sound. They have shared their viewpoints with their intellectual ingenuity in spite of their busy schedule which helped me focus on the problem in a better way. To name them: Sri Pranab Mukharjee (Former Minister of Commerce, Govt. of India, and presently a Member of Parliament), Sri Kamal Nath (Former Minister of State for Environment and Forests), Sri J.N. Dixit (Former Secretary, Ministry of External Affairs, Govt. of India), Prof. V.P. Dutt (Former Member of Parliament, Pro-Vice Chancellor & Acting Vice Chancellor of Delhi University), Sri S.P. Shukla (Former Secretary, Ministry of Finance, and a Permanent Negotiator to GATT at Geneva for several years), Sri Salman Haider (Former Secretary, Ministry of External Affairs, Govt. of India), Sri K. Raghunath (Former Secretary, Ministry of External Affairs, Govt. of India).

No word of appreciation would suffice my gratitude and indebtedness towards my family members – Bapa, Mummy, Chinubhai, Bhauja, Lucky, Happy, Kuni and of course, Dr. H.S. Patnaik, Mrs. Kasturi Patnaik, Kuni, Patu, Polly and Tikily. They have not only inspired and encouraged me from time to time but also stood by me during the rough weather of my life to show me the right direction. I owe all my success to their unwavering support, love, affection, care and guidance for which I stand where I am now.

I wish to acknowledge the cooperation and encouragement that I received from my principal – Dr. H. Lasa of Tirap Degree College, Khonsa, Arunchal Pradesh and colleagues – Dr. S.D. Chaudhury, Dr. S.K. Sinha, Dr. A.K. Misra, Dr. Satish Gupta, Mr. Kiron Langchung, Mr. G. Borang, Mr. D.K. Chakraborty, and other non-teaching staff of my college, but for which this work would not have seen the light of the day.

I must proffer my gratefulness to Babu Mausa, Kunu Mausi, Manu Mausa, Nani Mausi, Jeetu Mamu, Chirag, Anmol and the new born Tanmay, whose contributions in my endeavor are just unforgettable.

My sincere gratitude are due to the persons who cooperated with me in a ‘special’ way by extending their generous support and timely help – Mr. Raghab Dash (Deputy Director, Rajya Sabha Library, Parliament of India), Mr. Deba Mohanty (Research Fellow, IDSA), Dr.
K. Das (Doctor, ISIC), Mr. C.S. Mohapatra (Deputy Secretary, Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment), Dr. J.K. Patnaik (Lecturer, I.G. College, Tezu, Arunachal Pradesh), Mr. Ashok Behuria (Assistant Editor, Journal of Peace Studies), Mr. Nilamani Sahoo (Research Associate, Journal of Peace Studies), Mr. P.K. Mallick (Research Scholar, J.N.U), Mr. Avilash Roul (Research Scholar, J.N.U), Ms. Lupsy Mohanty (Research Scholar, Delhi University) and Kiti, without whose contribution, this work would have remained incomplete.

I am extremely thankful to the Library staff of J.N.U, IDSA, ACL, Teen Murti, Parliament Library, World Affairs Library of Sapru House, all located in New Delhi for their kind cooperation and assistance in collection of material and data.

I express my appreciation and sincere thanks to Satish and Raju for undertaking this daunting task of deciphering and typing out of the manuscript meticulously and of course, in a record time.

I must single out, for special thanks, Sowesh, Biswaranjan, Jayant, Rajdeep, Bobby, Bibhuti, Uma, Diti, Dipu, Pupu, Jeeta, Archana, Kaushik, Soni, Priya, Balu, Sabita, Tania, Manashi, Ranjit, Sourav, Bulu, Simanti, Nissim, Asit, D.D, Giri, Preeti, Sambit, Kalia, Satya, Benga, Kalyan, Achintya, and host of others, who have helped me complete the job.

However, after this long and windy thanks giving, I am at last left wrestling with a feeling that something conspicuous is being amiss in it. Yes ! that is ‘Lily’, whose contribution cannot be put in words. To say the least, her unflagging inspiration, incessant and steadfast emotional support and timely prodding have never sagged even when the chips were down, sharing all the ups and downs of hope and despondency that have accompanied the long haul from planning to completion of this endeavour.

At the end, I must mention about the inspiration that I received from my Late Grandfather, who himself was a prolific writer and also thank all for providing threads of this tapestry and I of course, absolve them all of any responsibility for my own short-falls or oversights.

New Delhi
