ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I, Mahesh K. Dey, deeply acknowledge the contribution of the following people for the completion of my thesis for the degree of my Ph.D. At the outset, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to my research guide, Dr. Kalidas Misra, Professor in English, Sambalpur University, Orissa for always inspiring me to do research and complete the thesis work for the above-mentioned degree. He has always supported me in my research work and given his insightful suggestions and guidance, which have widened my critical outlook. He has not only provided me with some unavailable primary texts but also many critical articles collected for his own research.

I would like to convey my sincere thanks to my dear colleagues in the Department of English, Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat. They include Prof. Daxa A Vamdatt, Prof. E.V. Ramakrishnan, Dr. Rakesh N Desai, Mr. Amit Prajapati, and Ms. Rekha Macwan. They have always encouraged me to complete my thesis and also spared me from departmental works at the time of need. I am deeply thankful to Dr. Prafulla C Kar, retired Professor in English, M S University, Baroda for his support and insightful suggestions. I would also like to acknowledge the support of my former colleagues at Smt. K K Arts & Commerce College, Ankleswar and Banki College, Cuttack, Orissa.

I am very much thankful to my former teachers at the Utkal University, Bhubaneswar including Prof. Ganeswar Mishra, Prof. P.G. Rama Rao, Prof. J.K. Chand, and Prof. Sarat Satpathy who inspired me to do higher studies in English literature and to make my career out of it. Prof. Bishnu C Sahoo, Prof. Mukund C Swain, and Prof. Gopal Sarangi who taught me English literature at the graduation level also deserve thanks like other teachers.

I have visited some important libraries in India for collecting my research material. They include libraries of ASRC and CIEFL at Hyderabad, of Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute at Delhi, of American Center and British Council at Kolkata, and of the Canadian Centers at M S University, Baroda and at Delhi.
University, Delhi I would like to thank the staff of these institutions for their kind help and support extended to me. I am also thankful to the staff of the National Library of Canada and the ICCS, Canada, who have always promptly responded to my letters and posted me relevant materials on my request. Particularly Linda Jones of the ICCS has always encouraged me with her nice letters and material.

Lastly, I would like to convey my sincere thanks to my family, friends and relatives for their encouragement and wishes. I deeply acknowledge the immense contribution of my loving mother Ms. Kamala Dey and my father late Priya K Dey, without whom I couldn't have reached the present position and completed the degree. My post-graduate classmates like Niranjan, Titu, Dillip, Manas and Bulu need special mention for their timely support and best wishes. I must thank to my dear wife Nupur for her patience, cooperation, and encouragement. My little son Dipanshu needs special thanks for his inputs in terms of love and naughtiness and for his patient standing by the table-side and looking curiously at my writing. I thank Mr. Gopal Sinha, Mr. Amardip Das, and Mr. Pradip Mohanty who took the responsibility for preparing the typed and bound copies of the manuscript.
