BIBLIOGRAPHY

PRIMARY SOURCES

U.S. Government Documents

________, Bottom-up Review (US Department of Defence, September 1, 1993).

________ Congress, Senate, To express the sense of the Senate regarding the May 11, 1998, Indian nuclear tests. SRES 227 IS, 105 Congress, 2nd Session, May 12, 1998.

________ Congress, House of Representatives, concerning India's recent detonation of 5 nuclear devices, HRES 439IH, 105 Congress 2nd Session.

________ Congressional Record, May 12, 1998.

________ Congressional Record, May 14, 1998.
Congressional Record, June 19, 1998.

Congressional Record, November 17, 1989.

Congressional Record, September 10, 1999.

Congressional Record, September 18, 1992.

State Department, Telegram, November 25, 1964. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Telegram for Governor Harriman from the Secretary, February 27, 1965. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Telegram Regarding Estimated Cost of Indian Nuclear Weapon Program, May 24, 1966. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Possible Indian Nuclear Weapons Development, March 29, 1966. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Memorandum to Ambassador at Large, Indian Nuclear Weapons Capability, January 30, 1965. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Security Assurances for India, April 20, 1967. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Intelligence and Research Intelligence Note, India: Uncertainty over Nuclear Policy, June 13, 1974. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

State Department, Background Paper, Pakistan and the Non-Proliferation Issue, January 22, 1975. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.
State Department, Memorandum, Demarche to Pakistan on Nuclear Fuel Reprocessing, January 30, 1976. Obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the National Security Archives, Washington, D.C.

Reports/Documents

U.S. Documents

Internet Materials:

Nalin Kohli, "India’s Nuclear Gate-Crashing," MSNBC coverage see website <http://www.msnbc.com/news/164887.asp>

The Heritage Foundation, see webside <http://www.Heritage.org/>

SECONDARY SOURCES

BOOKS

Chari, P.R., Indo-Pak Nuclear Standoff: The Role of the United States (Manohar, 1995).

Hawes, John, Nuclear Proliferation: Down to the Hard Cases, Program on Rethinking Arm Control, Center for International and Security Studies at Maryland, School of Public Affairs, University of Maryland at College Park, PRAC.

Stahl, Shelley A. and Kemp, Geoffrey, Arms Control and Weapons Proliferation in the Middle East and South Asia.

ARTICLES

America’s “unipolar” moment. In particular, the authors examine the practical policy implications of neo-isolationism selective engagement, cooperative security, and U.S. hegemony.

Deutch, John M., “The New Nuclear Threat”, Foreign Affairs, vol. 71, no. 4 Fall 1992, p. 120.

Dhanapala, Jayantha and Thomas Graham, JR, “The Diplomatic Lessons Learned from the Renewal of the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons.” ISD Reports. Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, January 1996.

Ikle, Fred Charles, “The Second Coming of the Nuclear Age”, Foreign Affairs, January/February 1996.

Koch, Andrew, “Pakistan persists with nuclear procurement”, Jane’s Intelligence Review, March 1997, pp. 131-133.

Pakistani Missile Firing Triggers Indian Protest”, Aviation Week and Space Technology, July 21, 1997, p. 35.

