Acknowledgement

In the name of Allah, most Gracious and most Merciful, I am humbled to Almighty, the elevated, for the achievement of this research work. The completion of this thesis has been a joint effort in the sense that I have received abundant inspiration, encouragement and assistance from several colleagues, friends and respondents.

I place on record my deepest sense of gratitude to my esteemed guide, supervisor and my teacher Prof. Effat Yasmin, Head Department of Economics, University of Kashmir, for her valuable guidance, scholastic criticism and affectionate encouragement for the completion of this Thesis. I am feeling short of words to thank her for all the guidance, support and time in spite of having a very busy schedule. I am highly obliged for her encouragement and sympathy, particularly when I was facing academic hardships. She always encouraged and supported me whenever I approached her during my academic hardships.

I wish to express deep sense of gratitude to Prof. M. S. Bhat of Jamia Millia Islamia University, New Delhi, Dr. Tariq Masood of AMU, Mr. J. R. Majumdar, Ms. Rashmi of NSSO Head Office New Delhi, Dr. Abay Kumar, and Mr. Abshakh of Human Development Institute, New Delhi, for their value guidance, suggestions, outright cooperation, encouragement and constant help regarding extraction, processing and analysis of data and use of techniques.

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge the help and support from all teaching and non-teaching staff members of the Department especially Ms. Gulshan for providing library assistance with utmost dedication.

It is my privilege to express my heartfelt thanks to Central Statistical Organization (CSO), National Sample Survey Organization (NSSO), Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation New Delhi, Reserve Bank of India, and EPW Research Foundation etc. for providing necessary data and material. Without their support it would have been a difficult task, in compilation of this work.

I express my heartfelt thanks to my colleagues and friends especially Mr. Javaid Iqbal, Ms. E. Mariam Mr. Mohmmad Yaseen, Dr. Arshad Hussain, Dr. Aasif Hussain, Dr. Mushtaq Ahmad, Dr. Pravaz, Mr. Javid Ahmad, Ms. Shazia, Mr. Bilal Ahmad, Mr. Tawseef Muneer Dr. Ab Hamid, Dr. Sakeena and all Scholars of Department of Economics for their encouragement and support in the completion of my work.

I am also thankful to my classmates for their invaluable help and advice at various stages of my work. This has helped me a lot in improving my work.

I am highly thankful to my brother Mr. Ishfaq Ahmad, my sisters Shaheen, Nelofar and Rumeena and my uncle Mr. Ab. Rashid for the moral support and comfort that they provide me during the course of this study.

Finally I am forever indebted to my parents, who were very supportive in my endeavor and offered valuable emotional and financial support. They suffered all the inconveniences patiently. I have no words to describe their endless patience and encouragement which they displayed when I was preoccupied with the completion of this thesis.

Last but not least I am thankful to entire team of Al-Khaleel DTP Centre Hazratbal, for printing of present research work with utmost care and patience.

Fayaz Ahmad Bhat