LIST OF CONTENTS

TITLE PAGE

Declaration
Certificate
Acknowledgement

CHAPTER-I

Introduction

1.1 Humour and Satire in Satire
1.2 Role of Humour in Literature
1.3 Role of Satire in Literature
1.4 Humour and Satire in British Literature
1.5 Indian Writing in English
1.6 The Rise of the Novel in Indian English Literature
1.7 Development of Novel in Post-Independence Indian Literature
1.8 Humour and Satire in Indian English Fiction
1.9 Humour and Satire in Post-colonial Indian English Fiction

CHAPTER-II

Upamanyu Chatterjee’s Novel Mammaries of The Welfare State and English, August: An Indian Story

2.1 Introduction
2.2 The Protagonist as an Alienated Youth
2.3 The Comic and Satire aspects in Upamanyu Chatterjee’s English, August
CHAPTER-III

Anurag Mathur’s Making the Minister Smile, Inscrutable Americans and The Country is Going to the Dogs

3.0 Comic Portrayal of Power Hungry Politicians in Anurag Mathur’s Making the Minister Smile

3.1 Introduction

3.2 The coming vision in Anurag Mathur’s Inscrutable Americans

3.3 A Satirist as the Guardian of Ideals in Anurag Mathur’s The Country is going to dogs

3.4 Conclusion

CHAPTER-IV

Chetan Bagat’s Half Girlfriend and 2 States: The Story of My Marriage

4.0 Humour as the Heart of Literature in Chetan Bhagat’s Half Girlfriend

4.1 Introduction

4.2 Sharp Reflection of Maladies that Afflict Indian Society at Various Levels in Chetan Bhagat’s 2 States: The Story of My Marriage

4.3 Contemporary Youth Caught between Culture

4.4 Conclusion

5. Conclusion

Bibliography