Contents

PREFACE

CHAPTER I  CUBA'S RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES: AN HISTORICAL OVERVIEW
Cuba’s Attitude, Policies and Postures towards the US prior to the Revolution, 1898-1958; Commencement of the Revolution and the Ensuing Differences between Cuba and United States, 1959-1961; Bay of Pigs and After; Heightening of Hostilities between Cuba and the US, 1965-1968.

CHAPTER II  CUBA'S CHANGING RELATIONS WITH UNITED STATES IN 1970s: IMPERATIVES AND INITIATIVES
"Sovietization of Cuba" Thesis; Cuba's Threat Perception; Cienfuegos Crisis; Dilemma of New Dependency; Cuba's Foreign Policy Strategy in an Era of Detente; Diminishing Returns from Soviet Ties; Cuba’s Need for Trade and Technology

CHAPTER III  CUBA’S EFFORTS AT RAPPROCHEMENT WITH UNITED STATES
Political Initiatives; Diplomatic Overtures; Economic Diplomacy;
Obstacles to Rapprochement; US Claims for Compensation; Guantanamo: Its Political, Military and Legal status;
The Question of Lifting of Embargo;
The Cuban Exile Factor

CHAPTER IV  THE END OF RAPPROCHEMENT  121-154
Puerto Rico and US-Cuban Relations;
Cuba in Africa; Revolutionary
Solidarity in Angola

CHAPTER V  CONCLUSION  155-164

BIBLIOGRAPHY  165-181