ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply indebted to Professor R.C. Sharma, under whose guidance, I had the privilege to carry out this research work. He has been a source of inspiration and encouragement to me throughout the preparation of this thesis. I utilize this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude towards him for introducing me to the field of international politics in area studies. Moreover, his humanitarian character has left an everlasting impression on my mind. But for his unreserved cooperation, this would not have seen the light of the day. My thanks to Professor M.L. Sondhi for his scholarly and valuable suggestions in my research work.

My special thanks are due to Shri S. Subbanna, Joint Director, Directorate of Field Publicity, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Shri M. Koteswara Rao, Assistant Editor, Collected Works of Mahatma Gandhi (Publications Division), Ministry of Information and Broadcasting and Shri David Mally, Joint Director, Central Employment Exchanges, Ministry of Labour, for the help rendered to me by making available various government documents.

My sincerest thanks must also go to the large number of other scholars and friends who at one point and another discussed, questioned and criticized the contents of this thesis. In this respect Dr Deora, Ms D. Shanthi Sree, Miss T. Bharathi, Mr Shaul Hameed and Mr K. Ramesh deserve special mention for giving me a helping hand and continuous encouragement.

I sincerely thank Mr K.U.M. Rao, Deputy Librarian of this University and the staff members of the libraries of JNU, Indian Council of World Affairs, Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses, Federation of Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, UN Information Centre, World Bank, Central Secretariat, Kenya and Tanzania High Commission, for making available research material and other related information.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude for the spontaneous help and assistance provided to me by Shri Meduri Nageswara Rao, ex-Member of Parliament, Shri Nisankara Rao Venkata Ratnam, Member of Parliament and Dr. Prabhudas, Chairman, Guntur Municipality, Guntur.

My thanks are due in no small measure to my wife Mrs Susan, who had kindled inspiration and strength in me all these years. The credit of this work, to a greater extent, should go to her. I am also deeply indebted to my family members, who offered constant encouragement and co-operation.

My sincere thanks to Mr D.K. Pahwa, for his good and neat typing and the Jawaharlal Nehru University for the financial assistance.

However, for any typographical and other narrative mistakes I own myself responsible.

New Delhi,

(E. B. Showry)
