Acknowledgements

I am most grateful to Professor M.N. Panini – my supervisor and mentor - without whose guidance and active criticism, this work could not have its present form. I express my sincere gratitude and indebtedness to him.

The work would not have been possible without the willingness of the concerned NGOs to share the required information with me. I wish to acknowledge with thanks the cooperation of the Heads of the 17 NGOs surveyed, who consented to be interviewed.

I am indebted to Swami Agnivesh, Chairperson, Bandhua Mukti Morcha (BMM) and Ms. Praveen Nair, Trustee, Salaam Baalak Trust (SBT), who had been kind enough to allow me to conduct an in-depth study of their respective organisations. Swami Agnivesh, Ms. Praveen Nair, Prof. Sheotaj Singh (General Secretary, BMM) and Mr. Sivalingam (Project Coordinator) gave me time from their busy schedule for long sessions of interviews with me, for which I am very thankful.

The staff of BMM and SBT gave their full cooperation and assistance, which helped me in gathering the information. They include Mr. Mohan, Mr. Ramesh Arya, Mr. Vishnu, Mr. Bhanu Pratap Singh, Mr. Manoj, Mr. Anand, Ms. Ganga, Ms. Hema, Mr. Bahadur, Dr. George Bittra, Ms. Dasgupta, Mr. Tiwari, Ms. Chhaya and Ms. Arshuman. The child beneficiaries of these two organisations were also very friendly and cooperative and patiently answered to my queries. I am thankful to each and every one of them.
I am also grateful to Ms. Sudhira Sham (a South African National) and Ms. Mona Rao, both volunteers to BMM, with whom I became great friends during my intensive study of BMM. They offered me whatever help I sought. Ms. Mona also talked to her friend, who is one of the Trustees of SBT, about my interest in conducting a study of his organisation, with the result that I got positive reply from SBT.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Devendra Kumar. At the time when I was about to begin my study he was submitting his Ph. D. thesis in JNU. Since his area of research was also related to NGOs, he gave numerous articles to me for my initial reading and to have a grasp of the subject. He also gave me guidance regarding formulation of the questionnaire. Here I would also like to thank, Mr. Goswami, a well-read scholar, who helped me in giving a perspective on the subject matter.

My thanks are also due to the staff of JNU library and of National Labour Institute.

I wish to thank Mr. Malviya, Documentation Officer of the Indian Social Institute for permitting me to use the library.

I am also grateful to our Centre's office staff especially, Mr. Talwar, Mr. Bharat and Ms. Sunita, Mr. Gupta, Mr. Jhingiani, Mr. Negi, Mr. Bhupinder and Mr. Kashmir for their help.

I express my gratitude to Rao uncle and Niranjan, to Vishwanathan aunty and uncle, who are like a family to me. They very generously let me use their computer for typing, etc. of my drafts. The typing work, never became tedious to me because of the family atmosphere and the kind hospitality extended by them. My sincere thanks to them for everything they did to help me.

My friends, cousins and well wishers, who were interested in what I was doing and always wished that I finish my Ph.D. work as soon as possible, deserve special thanks.

Last, but not the least, I am grateful to my Father, Mother, Sisters—Priti and Priya, for their support and constant encouragement. They were always concerned about the progress of my work and pushed me into putting more effort in this direction. My thanks to them cannot be expressed in words.
