Acknowledgements

I would like to thank my supervisor Dr T. Samson without whose guidance and support I would not have been able to complete this work on time.

I would like to thank my Achan and Amma whose constant support and encouragement has been the pillar of my strength. I would like to thank my brothers Manoj and Vinej for their love and consideration, which has been of immense help to me.

I am indebted forever to my teacher and mentor Mrs. Sheila Velayudhan, who introduced me to the world of literature.

I am greatly indebted to Benhur, Binu, and other friends who made it possible for me to get through the various stages of the dissertation.

Finally, I would like to thank my friend, especially, my friend Gireesh who helped me to realise true friendship and has been a constant critic and support throughout.