ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

During the long span of preparing this thesis, I have taken help at various stages from various sections. Without that, I would not have been able to complete this work. So it is my pleasant duty to record my sincere thanks to all of them.

I am, indeed very much grateful to my research guide Dr. R. N. Mangoli, Associate Professor, Director and Chairman School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Rani Channamma University Belagavi, for the patience and kindness with which he supervised this thesis. To be candid, I owe my training in genetical research to him only. His incisive comments and insights have taught me how to critically evaluate the sources an essential pre-requisite for any genetical reconstruction. In fact, it was him who pursued me to take up this topic for research. I owe gratitude not only for his guidance, but for the constant encouragement he gave me.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. G. S. Venumadhava I/c Coordinator, Dr. D. J. Narayankar and Miss. Tanushri N. Anchan, Assistant Professors Department of studies in Criminology and Forensic Science, Karnatak University, Dharwad for their constant encouragement during the course of research work.

My sincere appreciation and special thanks are due to the Librarian and entire staff of Prof. S. S. Basavanal Library, Karnatak University, Dharwad, Police Commissioner Office Bengaluru, NGO Janagraha, All the staff of the Bengaluru Police selected for the study for their help and co-operation extended during the reference work of my Ph.D. Thesis.

I am deeply indebted to SC/ST Cell, Karnatak University, Dharwad for providing fellowship and I am thankful to Social Welfare Department, Government of Karnataka, Ambedkar Bhavan, Bangalore for granting thesis submission assistance.

I am also thankful to Dr. Sangeeta R., Mane, Department of Social Work, and Dr. Shaukat Azim, Department of Sociology, Karnatak University, Dharwad for encouragement and support during the course of my research.
My special thanks are due to Anita Haddannavar, Public Relation Officer (PRO) and DCP Bengaluru Police, for providing permission from police commissioner office and helping me to get information at concerned Police Stations in both districts.

I owe a heavy debt to my father, Late Shri. Ramesh B. Pujar and my mother Smt. Anasuya Ramesh Pujar who supported me through thick and thin during the long years of my work. In other words, the thesis would not have been possible without their silent and unfailing support during my research period.

My special thanks to my friends Mr. Prasanna Navratna and Prakash Muddannavar for their constant help in the Data Collection of my research period.

I am deeply indebted to my friends and fellow research scholars, Anup Kudtarkar, Md. Subhan Attar, Nrupatunga Patel, Dr. Ravikant Lamani, Sanjeeva ALur, Ishwar Navalgund, Shraddha Kulkarni, Mayuri Sahay and Chandrakala Halemani for helping me throughout the period of my research.

I convey thanks to the non-teaching staff members of Department of Criminology and Forensic Science, Karnataka University, Dharwad for their co-operation during my research work.
