Acknowledgement

With humility and gratitude, I set out to thank all those who helped me produce this piece of work which appears in the form of a thesis, but is built on foundations of invisible mountains of labour and cooperation of many individuals in these 8 years.

I thank Almighty Allah, in whose magnificent creation, I am but an insignificant atom. Yet, I am taken care of, loved, respected and adored. All praise due to Him for his countless blessings and mercies in the form of parents, teachers, intelligence, senses and fortune which shaped this piece of work.

I thank my parents, Haji Mahmood Khan and Tanoja Begum, for being what they are: immensely caring, trusting, supporting and blessing. My wife, Qudsia, who has been my pillar of strength against procrastination that delayed my work cruelly for so long, deserves my sincerest appreciation. My daughter Qaseeda, relatives and friends who put up with an unsocial academic recluse are worthy of gratitude as well.

My supervisors Dr. Rath Nayak and Dr. Biswajit Dash, Professor and Chairperson (Doctoral Programme), KIIT School of Management, KIIT University are the ones who led me by the finger to this point of productivity and contribution. Their unwavering belief in me despite my inconsistencies merits a colossal Thanks to both my guides.

My profound gratitude to a special teacher and trainer, Dr. Susmita Pani, Ravenshaw University, who walked me through my domain coursework. I also thank Dr. Surbhi Kapur and Dr. Ipseeta Satpathy for their acts of guidance as the members of the RSC. I am grateful to all my colleagues at KIIT University from the departments of School of Computer Application, School of Management, CAAS and KISS for their words of encouragement, suggestions of improvement and inputs of enhancement.

Finally, I heartily appreciate KIIT University for first sponsoring me as a fulltime scholar for 3 years and then propelling me as a faculty scholar with immense facilities and flexibility.
