Acknowledgement

It is a matter of immense pleasure for me to extend deep sense of gratitude to all persons who helped me in various ways in completion of this work. In this respect, first and foremost I would like to bow my head before ‘Almighty’ for his grace and blessings in completion of this work.

There are many men who are great and some men who are good but very men are both, great and good. I have no action or words that would be adequate to express to my sincere gratitude, appreciation and reference to my supervisor and guide of this research Prof. (Dr.) S.N. Ambedkar, Department of Public Policy, Law & Governance, Dean School of Social Sciences, Central University of Rajasthan, Bandarsindri, Ajmer Rajasthan for deciding together and accepting this research problem and looked into its progress time to time, devoting keen interest and extending full co-operation with valuable direction, supervision and guidance from its very inception till completion which culminated in preparing this thesis as successful research.

I owe a fundamental debt of gratitude, thanks and obligation for able guidance untiring encouragement and regular advice of Dr. S. Kandasamy, Head of Department, Department of Public Policy, Law & Governance, Central University of Rajasthan.

Further I take it an apt moment to place on record my thanks and gratitude to Dr. Gyana Ranjan Panda, Dr. Anjan Sahu, Dr. Almin Jose Cicely and Dr. C. Jeevan Kumar, Faculty, Department of Public, Policy Law & Governance Law, Central University of Rajasthan for their co-operation, inspiration and valuable suggestions in refining this Research work.

I also feel delighted to pay my heartiest thanks to the Director, Assistant Director and subordinate staff, Research Fellowship Division, Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi for providing financial support during completion of this research. I am also thankful to the library staff, Department of Law, Banaras Hindu University, Babasaheb Bhimrao Ambedkar (Central) University, Lucknow, National Human Rights Commission, New Delhi and Central University of Rajasthan and all the office staff of department of PPLG for being co-operative towards me.
I am also thankful to all the directors of Forensic Science Laboratories, Police Personnel and Judicial staff for sparing time from their hectic schedule and imparting the practical knowledge and information about this research.

I also pay thanks to Anuja Mishra and other Research Scholar of the department of Public Policy, Law & Governance for the valuable support at the time of needs.

I do not find words to show my indebtedness towards my father Mr. M.L. Barnwal and my mother Mrs. Gauri Devi who has always been the constant source of inspiration for me & took all possible pain in supporting me while completion of this Work.

Last but not the least, thanks are also due to my sisters, brothers & all my batch mates for their all time accessible advice, support, and encouragement whenever I consulted them.

This regular help and supportive attitude cannot be expressed in words.

Date:……………..

Ajay Kumar Barnwal