"Gratitude is the heart’s memory," so goes a French proverb. Let me recollect from my heart those large numbers of people who helped to make this work a possibility.

Undeniably the contribution of my supervisor Dr. P. Sahadevan is immense in shaping this work to its finality. His patient suggestions over a period of time were immensely useful in augmenting the thesis. His intellectual inspiration would stand by me for life. It is because of his high understanding that helped me to successfully come out of my struggles without discontinuing my studies. I’m indebted to him.

Discussions with Prof. Muni’s during the course work gave proper perspective on the subject. I’m thankful to other faculty members (both former and present) of our Division—Prof. Kalim Bahadur, Prof. Mahendra Lama, Prof. Uma Singh, Prof. I.N. Mukherjee, Prof. Muchkund Dubey, and Prof. Nancy Jetly.

I’m grateful to Mallika Joseph, who has been a good sister of mine since my graduation days, for acting as a good sculpture by chiseling out my language and final type-setting. I thank Suba Chandran for his constant encouragement. I’m very grateful to Mr. P.R. Chari for all his encouragement and help. Maj. Gen. Azhok Krishna and Air Cmde Prashant Dixit deserve special thanks for their motivation. Pransanjit’s services have been a great respite for me. I also thank Mr. Vermani, Haokip, Vijai, Sapna, and Surender.

I’m very much indebted to Mr. Suresh Premachandran (EPRLF) and his family, Mr. Sivarajah and his family, Mrs Sarveswaran, Abi, Nisha, Mr. Chandrabose and his family, Sudharshine, Mr. Navaratnam Ravi and his family for making me to feel homely during my field trip days in Sri Lanka. Amerdeen impressed me by his kindness. Dayani Panagoda, Chamali Liyanage and Prasanna Perera were extremely helpful in arranging interviews with important people. Dr. Sivayogan’s friendship is cherishable. Prof. Tamilmaran, Dr. Deepika Udagama, Dr. Gamila Samarasinghe, Dr. Neera Wickremasinghe, Commandant, and other teaching staff... of Sir John Kotellawala Defence Academy, Mr. Yogarajan, MP, CWC, and Miss Gauri deserve heartfelt thanks for their insightful discussions on the subject. Ramakrishna Mission was gracious enough to provide peaceful accommodation during my field trip.

Timely support from Mayilvaganan, Surendra, and Gnanagurunathan is highly appreciable. I thank Gangathar and Venkat for standing by me during my difficult days in JNU. Warm affection and gratitude goes to my beloved brother Suresh for his immense help throughout my studies. I'm indebted to my dear parents and sisters for bearing my absence for longer durations. Dinesh, Jashwant, Vinoth, Periyamma, Divya, Kranthi, Raju, Siva Shankari, Karthi, Swaroopa, Surenth, Maha Lakshmi, Amu, Mohan, Neera, Charan, Sundar, Akila, Shree, Swami, Mr. B. Ravi, Suba, Satish, Seetha, Vaishnavi Ramakrishna, Dr. Rakesh, Dr. Mahalakshmi Ragunathan, Mrs. Ragunathan, Sankavi, and Kasinathan kept my spirits alive throughout the period of the study.

I thank the library staff of JNU, Nehru Memorial, Indian Council of World Affairs, Institute of Defence Studies and Analyses, Indian Institute of International Law, Colombo University(Colombo), Peradeniya University (Kandy), Centre for Study in Human Rights(Colombo), Nadesan Centre(Colombo), Civil Rights Movement (Colombo), Sir John Kotellawala Defence Academy (Ratmalana), Centre for Human Rights and Development (Colombo), International Centre for Ethnic Studies (Colombo), International Centre for Ethnic Studies (Kandy), Law and Society Trust (Colombo), and Consortium for Humanitarian Agencies (Colombo).
