ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

“At this ecstatic time of presenting my Ph.D. thesis bow to almighty God”

Ph.D. is a long haul full of obstacles and barriers, but the support and encouragement of some people simply made this journey considerably pleased and easier. Here I want to give my acknowledgments to those who were always with me during this tenure. In the first place, I would like to express my deepest and sincere gratitude to my worthy supervisor, Prof. Manjusha Sharma, Chairman, Department of Public Administration, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for her genial inspiration and enthusiastic encouragement throughout the course of my work. Her wide knowledge and positive attitude towards research and also towards life have been of great value for me. I always remember the tireless efforts that my supervisor has made over day and night in giving a good shape to this thesis. She is truly a hard working researcher and it is an honor for me to be one of her Ph.D. students. My sincere thanks are due to the staff at the Department of Public Administration, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for all their help that made this work possible.

Now, I am speechless! My words are not able enough to express my feelings. I have no words to express all the wisdom, love and support provided to me by my beloved husband Marut Pareek, grandfather-in-law Sh. Babulal Pareek, grandmother-in-law Sushila devi, father Sh. Jagdish Chander Joshi, Mother smt. Narayani Joshi, father-in-law Sh. Kushal Pareek, mother-in-law Smt. Meenakshi Pareek, brother Vinod Joshi and sister Rekha Joshi for that I am bow-headed indebted. Their unconditional love and support in my each and every decision have inspired me to move forward in life. I deem myself the most fortunate person of the world for having them as parents.

(Priyanka Joshi)