Note: MLA Handbook, 7th ed. has been followed to cite sources in the text and in compiling this reference list.

Aksnes, D.W. “Citations and their use as indicators in science policy. Studies of validity and applicability issues with a particular focus on highly cited papers.” Thesis. Enschede-West, Nehterlands: University of Twente; 2005. 10-93.

Bar-Ilan, J. “A microscopic link analysis of academic institutions within a country: The case of Israel.” Scientometrics 59.3 (2004): 391–403. Print

De Bellis, N. Bibliometrics and Citation Analysis: From the Science Citation Index to Cybermetrics. Scarecrow Press, 2009. Print.

---. "Sources of Google Scholar Citations outside the Science Citation Index: A Comparison between Four Science Disciplines." Scientometrics 74.2 (2008): 273-94. Print.

Meho, I. and K.Yang. “Impact of data sources on citation counts and rankings of LIS faculty: Web of Science versus Scopus and Google S

Pauly, D., and K. Stergiou. "Equivalence of Results from Two Citation Thomson Isi’s Citation Index and Google’s Scholar Service." Ethics in

```

---. “Conceptualizing documentation on the web: an evaluation of different heuristic-based models for counting links between university web"

