ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A dissertation like this does not emerge without considerable debts to various people for their help with specialist information, concepts for debate and valuable suggestions.

First of all, with enormous pleasure, I express my deep indebtedness to my supervising teacher, Dr. N Ramalingam, Faculty, Centre for Taxation Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, whose valuable guidance made this treatise possible. I wholeheartedly thank for his inspiration, devoted attention, ingenious suggestions and unconstrained availability which were of great help in giving this work the present form.

This work was mainly carried out at the Department of Commerce and Research Centre, Sree Sankara College, Kalady. Dr. B. Ramesh, Selection Grade Lecturer, Department of Commerce, Sree Sankara College, Kalady, in spite of his busy schedule, was always ready to help me. I express my deep gratitude to him for his valuable support and scholarly suggestions.

I extend my sincere thanks to Shri. John Mathai, IAS, former Commissioner of the Commercial Taxes Department and Shri. V. Somasundaran, IAS, the present Commissioner of the Department for the wholehearted support and encouragement given to me for collecting data by conducting opinion survey on the employees of the Commercial Taxes Department.
I wish to record my sincere thanks to Prof. Ramachandran, Prof. Vishnu and Prof. A. Subramoniya Iyer, the Principals of Sree Sankara College during the course of my research and Shri. Sreedharan Moothathu, Head of the Department of Commerce and all other teaching and non-teaching staff of the College for their co-operation.

The participants of this study, especially the employees of the Commercial Taxes Department, Government of Kerala are remembered with gratitude for their valuable co-operation.

I record my appreciation towards Sri. S. AnilKumar, Sri. S. RadhaKrishnan Thampi and Sri. P. ChandraMohan for the encouragement and support they given to me in their capacity as Registrar of Centre for Taxation Studies.

I extend my heartiest thanks to Dr.C.S. Venkiteswaran, Faculty, Centre for Taxation Studies, Government of Kerala, for his valuable suggestions.

I am deeply indebted to Mahatma Gandhi University for providing me the facilities to carry out the research work and also for the Research Fellowship awarded.

Last, but not the least, I adoringly thank my Father, Mother and my Sister without whose wholehearted love, emotional support, prayers, mental and verbal abilities to discuss with me meaningfully about the subject, sacrifices and insistence that I complete, I would not have pulled on.
