ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The researcher wishes to express gratitude to God almighty without whose blessings nothing is possible. Thank you Ganapati Bappa! Thanks are due to my mentor and guide Dr. Smita Phatak Ma’am, without whose expert guidance this dissertation would not have been completed. Time and again, she hand held me through this tedious process of collecting the data, analyzing it and then getting the dissertation writing underway. Without her grace and blessings and guidance I would not have been able to complete this research at all.

The researcher is profoundly grateful to my husband Colonel Eshwar Reddy for showing extreme patience, sympathetic understanding and benevolent tolerance during the different phases of my research.

The researcher is grateful to Dr Sharmila Pradhan of the Department of Statistical Research, Delhi University and a dear friend who kept on guiding and encouraging me.

Thanks and gratefulness are due, to all the school principals, staff and students who have helped her by providing valuable data for the research. All the non-teaching staff who helped me in getting the data also deserve a kind mention.

Last but not the least I thank my family, especially my daughters for their unstinted support and help during the study.

A word of thanks to my dad, my source of inspiration who kept on motivating me to write and finish this research work and submit the thesis on time and motivated me. Thank you all!

Ms. Gayatri Reddy (Researcher)
