Acharya Devo Bhava!!!

This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining my Ph.D. I have not traveled in a vacuum in this journey. Planned or not, such a degree prefixing my name has added a new dimension to my life. This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my friends, my well wishers, colleagues and various institutions. At this momentous hour it is time to look back and remember about people who held my little hands to climb up the stairs.

At this moment of accomplishment, first of all I pay homage to my parents, Shaik Mastan Vali and Shaik Mastanbi, and brother, Shaik Ameer Vali, for their unflagging belief that despite their incomprehension about what I do, I must be saving the world. This work would not have been possible without their guidance, support and encouragement. I am indebted to my parents for inculcating in me the dedication and discipline to do whatever I undertake well. I am honored to have you as my parents. Thank you for giving me a chance to prove and improve my self through all my walks of life. I cannot thank my brother enough for showing me what it is to be a free spirit.

Best teachers teach from the heart, not from the book. My research guide Dr. Kilaru Eswar Kumar, Asst. Professor, Pharmacology Division, AU College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, India is one such teacher. Words can’t express my gratitude towards him. He was like a friend, philosopher and a guide. Help was always a call away. His diligence, constant encouragement and support, the freedom of working helped me to tide over the entire crises; I faced in completing the work. All his suggestions, intelligent planning, valuable advice were the backbone of this work. Without his assistance, this research work would never have seen the light of the day.

I wholeheartedly thank to Dr. Yarraguntla Srinivasa Rao, Principal, Vignan Institute of Pharmaceutical Technology, Visakhapatnam, in helping me in carrying out this work, I take pleasure to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Sreemanthula Satyanarayana, former Principal and HOD, AU College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, for his support and in helping me in carrying out this work.
It is my privilege to express my heartfelt gratitude and deep appreciation to Mr. Ajay Sathe (C.E.O.), Mr. Anand Rande (Sr. Manager) and Management of Cytel Statistical Software & Services Pvt Ltd (a subsidiary of Cytel Inc., USA), Pune for their lively company, motivation, help and assistance during my entire completion of the research work.

The road to my research started with training at Pharmacokinetics & Biostatistics Unit of Trident Life Sciences Ltd., Hyderabad. I take this opportunity to say sincere thanks to the management of Trident Life Sciences Ltd., Hyderabad for providing me experimental hands-on-training on different aspects of pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics.

I would also like to extend huge, warm thanks to my teachers Dr. Devarakonda Rama Krishna, Dr. Jaladi Rajasekhar and Dr. Mangala Charan Das for their constant support and encouragement in all my endeavors.

I have been fortunate to have many friends who cherish me despite my eccentricities. It is also a pleasure to mention my good friends T. Bhavya Latha, G. Chaitanya, N. Sreekanth, G. Sumalatha, K. Ravishankar, K. Raghunandan Reddy, P. Naga Sowjanya, P. Anuradha, P. Rama Rao, V. Uma, V. Ravi, T. Sri Latha, P.V. Krishna, Madhusudhan Reddy, Narmada, C. Arpan, M. Kiran Kumar, V. Kiran Kumar, M.
