ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Though only my name appears on the cover of this dissertation, a great many people have contributed to its production. I owe my gratitude to all those people who have made this dissertation possible and because of whom my experience has been one that I will cherish forever. Thank God for the wisdom and perseverance that he has been bestowed upon me during this research project, and indeed, throughout my life.

I am deeply indebted to my research supervisor, Dr Sudha Banth, Reader, Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for presenting me such an interesting thesis topic. Each meeting with her added invaluable aspects to the implementation and broadened my perspective. She has guided me with her invaluable suggestions, lightened up the way in my darkest times and encouraged me a lot in the academic life. From her I have learned to think critically, to select problems, to solve them and to present their solutions.

I would express my deep sense of gratitude to my father Sh. N.K Narula. His unwavering faith and confidence in my abilities and in me is what has shaped me to be the person I am today. My mother, late Mrs. Suman Narula could not see me reach this stage of my research but I acknowledge her in front of her memory. Her ardent wish and scholarly thinking became an inspiration following its completion. She had supported me in each and every way, believed in me permanently and inspired me in all dimensions of life.

I am very grateful to my grandmother Janak Narula who showed me the true worth of hard work. I would also like to thank my brother Karan Narula for his support and guidance. My thanks also go out to my friend Nidhi Kataria for her suggestions that helped me overcome setbacks and stay focused on my research study. I greatly value her friendship and deeply appreciate her belief in me.

I owe my sincere thanks to the Professors and Students of different colleges from Chandigarh who were the subjects of this study for their cooperation, patience, and support in the collection of data. I also duly acknowledge the help rendered by the staff members of the Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh in providing me the necessary facilities.

To you all, I dedicate this work.

All of you made it possible for me to reach this last stage of my endeavour.

Thank You from my heart-of-hearts.

Date : September, 2014

BANI NARULA