Acknowledgement

At the culmination of my work, I am wondering if, this could be ever possible without the contribution of many good people. And honestly saying that the same could never be. Now it’s my time to sincerely acknowledge and appreciate their contribution. At the end of my thesis I would like to thank all those people who made this thesis possible and an unforgettable experience for me.

First I want to thank the almighty for giving me such a good and meaning full life and for placing me at proper place at proper time.

I am short of words to praise my learned supervisor, Dr. Harminder Pal Singh, Chairperson, Department of Environment Studies, Panjab University, Chandigarh, who as an efficient sculpture molded my energy and diverted all my energy towards the goal. His par excellence in the field and in-depth knowledge and above all his humble nature help me a lot. I feel indebted and feel privileged for all the guidance given by him. Without his guidance the work could not be materialized as it is.

I am also very great full to co-supervisor, Prof. Daisy R. Batish, Department of Botany, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for being kind and generous nature. I am obliged for all the help and positive feedback of all the doubts at any point of my research. Her vast knowledge plus the simplicity & kind nature were of great help during the course of my Ph.D. Under her guidance I successfully overcame many difficulties and learned a lot.

I am also obliged and thankful to, Prof. R.K, Kohli, vice chancellor of Central University of Punjab , Bathinda for his valuable advice and for sharing his vast knowledge with me. The invaluable inputs were of great help.

Dr. Ajai Kumar, Advanced Instrumentation Research Facility (AIRF), Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi, deserve my sincere expression of thanks for providing his ever ready professional help to me. I feel pleasure to thank Dr. Vishwa, Department of Geography Panjab University, Chandigarh, for rendering invaluable help. I am also grateful to Dr. Sanjay Nathani and Ranjana Negi FRI, Dehradun for providing me their valuable time and help to identify different plant specimens.I thank all the clerical, laboratory, library and Technical staff of the department, especially Mr. Rajender, Mr. Jagdish, Mr. Lalit, Mr. Rajender Dahiya and Mr. Suresh for their ever available help. I also want to thank Mr. Lallan Prasad and Mr. Ram Narayan for all the help.
It is always very helpful to have experienced persons around you for help and timely guidance and I am obliged to have my seniors Shalender di, Gurpreet di, Nadia di, Nidhi di and Nitina di for all their help and guidance.

I am especially thankful to Savita Di, Anu & Anita for all the help and support provided by them at every point of my research work, I owe them a lot for providing good and positive environment. I will always cherish my tea break with them. I also want to thank Surabhi for being such a good and helpful person. I am also thankful to my cousin Savitri Negi for all the help and support.

At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

If I say that my work is the result of my personal effort, it would be wrong. I am very blessed & honored to have the company of friends and their contribution in my life. I am deeply obliged to all my friends especially Priyanka, Asha, Anjana, Aditi, Sangeeta, Gunjan, Prabha, Saroj, Sangeeta and Ikram for giving me company and making my stay very comfortable. I would also like to thank NeelKant sir, Sartaj sir, Arvind, Harman Gaganpreet and Narayan for their help and encouragement. I am also indebted to Shafila, Taran and Priya for their support, affection and encouragement.

Here I am deeply obliged to pay regards to my Bade Papa Late Jeewan Singh, Papa Sh. Kartar Singh and Mother Mrs. Naryan Bhagti for having faith in me and supporting me at every junction of my life. Their contribution in my whole life can’t be measured and I am proud to say that, they are the reason for everything I had achieved ever. I dedicate my Ph.D to them.

I also want to thank my brothers Mr. Balwant Singh, Mr. Mukesh Negi, sister-in-law Mrs. Asha Negi for supporting me at every stage unconditionally. And I am also grateful to my Sister Ravindra, and brother-in-law Mr. Satish Kumar, for their motivation and their amiable company during field trips.

I am very lucky to have wonderful nephew and nieces Rajat, Shreyas, Srishti and Drishti. Their charming and innocent faces were the perfect nectar which always rejuvenated me all times. Work pressure seems to vanish by just watching their smile and I also owe them a lot.

I am also very obliged and thankful to all the local peoples and traditional practitioners (Amchis), of Sangla Valley who eagerly helped me to accomplish my work by helping me find the plants, giving me the local, traditional usages of the same and also encouraged me to compile the knowledge for the benefit of the future generation. Their motivation urged me to do justice with my work.
I am also thankful to my in-laws for all the help rendered by them in the research. I am also thankful to my brother-in-law & Sister-in-law for encouraging me at every stage. I also want to thank my Husband for his understanding and motivation. His persuasive and ever inspiring nature helped me a lot.

I sincerely acknowledge University Grants Commission (UGC), New Delhi for the financial assistance during my Ph.D.
