Acknowledgement

Though Ph.D. is a lone academic expedition in which the researcher is left to his/her own intellectual manifestations and discoveries, this work would not have been completed without the help of many who provided me with their unconditional support during my research. I earnestly wish to extend my gratitude to all.

I offer a special gratitude to my research supervisor, Prof (Dr.) Sanjay Wadwalkar, for his immense contribution in formulating the research topic, stimulating suggestions and encouragement that led me to weave this thesis. Further, I would like to thank my teachers, including Mr Jayanth N. Pethkar, Chairperson, School of Communication Studies (SCS), Prof (Dr.) Archna R. Singh and Dr. Mohanmeet Khosla for their valuable suggestions and constant motivation during the research work.

I would like to acknowledge with much appreciation the crucial role of the SCS staff for their blessings and help in completing all official work. I am grateful to the District Education Office (DEO), Chandigarh Administration, for granting me permission to conduct survey in government schools. This research would not have been possible if the said office had not granted me the permission. A special thanks to The DEO, Sh. Ram Kumar Sharma.

It would be harsh if I do not extend my heartfelt thanks to the authorities of Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies (VIPS), New Delhi, for providing me with space, time, resources and academic leaves to complete this research work. It is a great moment for me to extend my gratitude to my fellow scholar, friend and better half Mr Radhe Krishan for supporting me through out and encouraging me during tough times that I encountered while writing the thesis.

Thanks are due to my other fellow scholars and friends Devashish Chakraborty, Chhavi Garg, Siddharth Negi, Mukesh Kumar, Sahil Koul, my colleagues Dr Bidhyarani Asem, Ms Tahzeeb Fatmah and Ms Divya Arora. I extend my gratitude to Sarbjit Rahi and Kulwinder Kaur, my paternal uncle and aunt and Navkiran Rahi, young cousin, for making my visits to Chandigarh comfortable and fruitful, to my brother-in-law Deepak Chand for motivating me. No amount of thanks would suffice for the moral and emotional support provided by my parents Inderjit Singh Rahi and Ravinder Rahi and siblings Natasha Rahi and Sarvnoor Singh Rahi. I would also like to thank Ms. Manju Wadwalkar, Public Relations Officer in the Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research (PGIMER), for her guidance and motivation and my friend Ms Deepa for her unconditional support.

Lastly, I thank the Almighty for his blessings and positivity throughout this academic journey. Needless to mention, the responsibility for ideas, errors and omissions, if any, rests solely with me.

Baninder Rahi