ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This research project would not have been possible without the support of many people. Although the number of people who have assisted with this project has been far greater than could ever be acknowledged. My first and sincere appreciation goes to Dr. Mrs. Bhagyalata Pataskar, my research supervisor, for all I have learned from her and for her continuous help and support in all stages of this thesis. I would also like to thank her for being an open person to ideas, and for encouraging and helping me to shape my interest and ideas. I feel that her valuable suggestions and constructive criticisms contributed not only to this research, but she will also lead me to get better achievements and to become righteous and good person in my future life.

Besides my supervisor, I am also grateful to my esteemed teachers, Prof. K.T.S Sarao, Prof. B. Satyapala, Dr. I.N. Sigh, Dr. R.K. Rana, Dr. H.P. Gangnegi, and Dr. R.K. Sing with whose kind, spirited guidance and significant teachings I pursued my M.A. degree from Department of Buddhist Studies, Delhi University.

I would like to offer my special thanks to all the faculties of the Centre and Department for their help and cooperation. I am also deeply in the debt of Dr. Mrs. Kanchan Mande (former Head) and Dr. Mrs. Shailaja Katre, the Head of the Department of Sanskrit and Prakrit Languages, for their kindly support and encouragement. And then I would like to show my gratitude to the Authorities of University of Pune and the staffs of the Department of Sanskrit and Prakrit Languages, University of Pune, Ph.D.
Section, the Faculty of Arts and International Students Centre (I.S.C) of University of Pune for their timely help.

I offer my sincere thanks to the researches and writings of all the eminent authors and scholars cited in the notes and bibliography. My thanks are due to Arts Library, Reference Library of Delhi University, Library of the Centre of Advanced Study in Sanskrit, Library of the Department of Sanskrit and Prakrit Languages, Jayakar Library at University of Pune, BORI and Deccan College Library Pune, for the useful books, papers and reports based upon great research, supplied to me.

I wish to express my deep gratitude to my respected Master, the Most Ven. Thich Thien Phung who opened for me the gates to the Dhamma. I extend my thanks to Ven. Thich Nhat Tu who encouraged me to go abroad for higher education that I could not obtain in Viet Nam.
During the course of my research, I was also fortunate to meet with a large number of wise counselors and colleagues who offered not only valuable advice but also friendship. Special thanks also to all my graduate friends, especially group members at International Student Hostel (University of Pune), Vietnamese community (Delhi University), the brothers and sisters in the Dhamma; man and woman in the lay life for giving the encouragements to get over my difficulties in the life of an overseas student and a Buddhist disciple. Not forgetting to my best friends who always been there.

This project was also made possible by generous financial support from the Buddhist followers inside and outside the country, Vietnam, during the time of my study in India. To each of them, I offer my sincere thanks.

I wish to express my love and gratitude to my beloved parents; for their understanding and endless love, through the duration of my studies.

It would not have been possible for me to complete my work without the help of many other individuals and their whole-hearted cooperation for which I am extremely grateful.
