ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I pay my obeisance to God (Guru Ji) who has enlightened me to reach this destination.

Words cannot express my sincere, heartfelt and profound gratitude to my respected supervisor Dr. Amritpal Kaur, Prof. and Head, Department of Library and Information Science, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, who inspired me to take up this project for my doctorate and under whose precious guidance, inspiring stance and indefatigable efforts, this research work was conducted. Her guidance gave me scope for independent thinking and taught me ways in which a research problem can be addressed. I greatly admire her valuable suggestions and solutions to the problems. Every moment spent in her presence and every discussion we’ve had, though often just for a few minutes, has been informative and a truly enriching experience. I thank her for her patience, her confidence in me and for the continued support I received from her. I sincerely acknowledge her efforts to read and correct this thesis. It was indeed a pleasure and privilege to work under such a learned teacher and guide.

I am also thankful to all the teachers of the Department of Library and Information Science, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, for providing me with necessary support and guidance as and when the need arose.

My thanks are also due to all the respondents of this study who co-operated with me in filling up the questionnaires.

I would like to record my sincere thanks to the Librarians and Professional Staff of the libraries of PU, PbU and GNDU who extended their full co-operation in collection of relevant data/information about their respective libraries.

I am indebted to the staff of Bhai Gurdas Library and non-teaching staff of the Department of Library and Information science, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar for their help in one way and the other during the period of this study.
I feel grateful to all those authors whose works have been consulted and quoted in this work as well as to the scholars in the field of Library and Information Science whose works have provided me enlightenment on the various aspects of the study.

My parents have always been a source of strength for me in completing this task. My husband Nirmal Singh Aujla and my sons, Gagandeep Singh Aujla and Chandandeep Singh Aujla deserve my deepest appreciation for their constant support, moral encouragement and understanding.

I am also thankful to Mr. Sukhdev Singh, Assistant Programmer, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar who helped me a lot in analyzing the data with SPSS.

All cannot be mentioned but will always be remembered.

Kulvir Kaur
