Acknowledgements

I have great pleasure in expressing my deep sense of gratitude to my supervising teacher Dr. K.P. Muraleedharan, Professor and the Head, Department of Commerce and Management Studies, University of Calicut, for his masterly guidance, meticulous attention, scholarly criticism and perceptive suggestions without which this study would not have been possible. Inspite of his extremely busy academic pursuit, he always spared time to guide me in my research work.

I extend my special thanks to the other teachers in the Department of Commerce and Management Studies and also the administrative staff in the same department for their timely help and support bestowed upon me.

I have immense pleasure to express my heartful gratitude to Dr. N. Raju, Reader in the Department of Statistics, University of Calicut, for his incessant assistance and co-operation extended to me during the course of my study.

I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude to my intimate friend Dr. Muraleedharan, Selection Grade Assistant, who is presently working in the Department of Journalism of the University of Calicut, for the pains taken by him in the tabulation work.

I express my gratefulness to the Librarians of the University of Calicut, Library of the Department of Commerce and Management Studies, Centre for Development Studies, CUSAT, IIT Madras and other institutes and research centres I have visited as a part of my study, for their kindness in making available to me relevant books and other materials for my research.

I shall be failing in my duty unless I record my sentiments of profound indebtedness to my wife and daughter for the inspiration given by them.

I sincerely thank all those friends of mine who helped me a lot at the various stages of my study.

Krishna Kumar K.M.
