

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I would like to express my most sincere and profound gratitude to my learned supervisor, Dr. Sukhwant Singh Bindra, Professor, Department of Political Science, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, under whose kind supervision and able guidance this work was completed. His wide knowledge and his logical way of thinking have been of great value for me. He has been very kind and showed immense patience for the painstaking work of checking the chapters and making corrections.

I also acknowledge my debts to all the teachers of Department for inspiring me at every stage. I am deeply grateful to Dr. R.S.Sandhu, Head of the Department, Prof. Gurnam Singh, Prof. Kuldip Singh, Prof Jagrup Singh Sekhon, S.Harmeet Singh, and Retd. Professor S.S.Narang. I was fortunate to find a scholar in the person of Mr. Ravinder Kalia, Sr. Lecturer, Department of Political Science, D.A.V College, Phillaur, whose deep insight into the subject provided me an invaluable guidance. He generously spent his time and energy for critically examining both, content and style of the thesis.

I want to place on record my appreciation for all my colleagues at the Department of Political Science, GNDU, especially Mr. Madan Lal, Mr. Sushil Bodh, Mr. Sunil Kumar, Mr. Gurpreet Uppal and Mr. Harjit Singh. They were a constant source of encouragement and their comments and suggestions enabled me to improve this work a lot. I will also like to thank Non-Teaching Staff of the Department and Bhai Gurdas Library, especially Mr. Amit Sharma and Mr. Bhupesh Arora for helping me every time.

I wish to acknowledge with thanks the financial support provided by University Grant Commission (UGC), New Delhi in the form of JRF/SRF, without which it was very difficult for me to complete this thesis.

My last word of thanks is reserved for my family, who has been a constant source of inspiration and encouragement through different stages of completion of the present study.
