ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I assert with a humble heart my deepest gratitude to the Lord Almighty who has given me the strength, confidence and hope in accomplishing this thesis.

I wish to express immense gratitude to Dr. A. Chelladurai, Associate Professor and Head, P.G. Department of Economics and Research Centre, Aditanar College of Arts and Science, Tiruchendur for his research guidance and academic help extended at various stages of this work. Mere words would not be sufficient to acknowledge his constant encouragement, advice and help in completing my research work.

I am very thankful to the Honorable Vice-Chancellor, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University and Dr. V. Gopalakrishnan, Principal, Aditanar College of Arts and Science, Tiruchendur for facilitating the completion of my research studies.

I should specially thank Dr. D. Seenikumar Selvanayagam, Secretary and Correspondent and Dr. Mrs. Ida P. Joseph, Principal, St. John’s College, Palayamkottai for their encouragement and valuable assistance. I also thank all the Faculty of Economics Department, St. John’s College, Palayamkottai for their academic guidance.

I would like to record my special thanks and appreciation to officials at all levels in the DRDA, Mahalir Thittam of Tirunelveli District for not only providing access to data but also for sparing time to discuss various issues related to their role on SHGs.

I record my sincere thanks and appreciation to the chief functionaries and field staff of NGOs like Social Change And Development (SCAD), AUSSI Community Development and Educational Society (AUSSI CODES), Community Action for Social Transition (CAST) and Jana Priya Trust in Tirunelveli District for providing field work support in collecting the data and information from group members.

I express my sincere thanks to the Librarians of Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai, Madras Institute of Development Studies, Chennai, Aditanar College of Arts and Science, Tiruchendur, and St. John`s College, Tirunelveli for their help in my literature reference work.

I am very much thankful to Dr.V.DuraiSingh, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, St.John`s College, Palayamkottai for his valuable help in my computer data processing and statistical analysis.

I am deeply grateful to my pre-Ph.D., thesis presentation committee members of Dr. P. Jeyabaskaran, Associate professor, Department of commerce and Dr.V.Malaisoodum Perumal, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Aditanar College of Arts and science, Tiruchendure for their valuable comments and suggestions which have enriched my thesis and I also thank all the Faculty of Economics Department, Aditanar College of Arts and science, Tiruchendure for their academic support.

I wish to extend my thanks to Mr. J. David Gnanaraj, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, St. John’s College, Palayamkottai for his help in the process of developing my thesis work.

I would like to thank Mr. D. Magesh, Research Scholar, Aditanar College of Arts and Science, Tiruchendur for his field work support and Mrs. Tamil Selvi for her help in data entry.

I am indebted to the sample respondent who were good enough to spare their precious time in giving me answers in detailed at interview schedule. They form the basis for this thesis.

It is my great pleasure to thank Mr. V. Micheal Venish, Research Scholar, MIDS, Chennai for his timely support, throughout my research regarding reference work.

Last but not least, I owe a great debt of gratitude to by beloved parents, brother and sister for their financial and moral support and constant encouragement throughout the process of research work.

A. ANGEL ANILA