   play in 1855, but it was not published in his lifetime. The first published edition is in the journal Purogami Satyashodhak (Marathi), Vol.5 No.2, April - June. 1979.

   Chatrapati Shivaji Raja Bhosale Yacha Pavada: (A ballad of the Chatrapati Raja Shivaji BhoSale): This work was published in Bombay in June, 1969 and has been reprinted in the collection of Phule’s works edited by D. Keer and S.G. Malshe.

   Brahmanache Kasab: (Priestcraft Exposed): This work was published in Bombay in 1869, and has been reprinted in the collection of Phule’s works edited by D.Keer and S.G. Malshe.
Vidyakhatil Brahman Pantoji: (Brahman Teachers in the education department): This ballad was published in the journals Vividhadnyan Vistar and Satyadipika (both Marathi) in June and July, 1869 respectively.

Gulamaqiri: (Slavery): This work was published in Pune in 1873. It has been reprinted in the collection of Phule's works edited by D. Keer and S.G. Malshe.

Memorial Addressed to the Education Commission: Phule made a long statement to the Hunter Commission on Education in India in 1882. This was not published independently during his lifetime, but has been reprinted in the collection of his works edited by D. Keer and S.G. Malshe.

Shetakaryacha Asud: (The Cultivator's Whip-Cord): This work was made up of a collection of Phule's speeches delivered to Satyashodhak audiences in 1882-83. He put these together and made a manuscript copy to send to the Earl of Dufferin. This manuscript is in the National Library of Cutcutta. The work was not published during Phule's lifetime, but has been published in the collection of his works edited by D. Keers and S.G. Malshe.

Satsar: (The Essence of Truth): Issues one and two, published in Pune in 1885, Phule hoped to make this into a regular series, but publication was discontinued after the second issue. Both of these have been reprinted in the collection of Phule's works edited by D. Keer and S.G. Malshe.

Asprshvache Kaifivat: (The Tale of the Untouchables): This work was completed in 1885, but was not published during Phule's lifetime. The manuscript is in the P.S. Patil MSS, Shivaji University Library, Kolhapur.
