ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I embarked on this journey five years ago wanting to understand research and the phenomenon of work-family enrichment. As the endeavour draws to an end the journey taken was within, too. It has shown me my imperfections - both of nature and intellect. And revealed that how blessed I am to be surrounded by wonderful people. This journey culminates with my heart brimming with gratitude.

I offer this fruit of labour at the feet of the almighty and my dear mother Mrs Vijaya Shete who until her last breath believed that this day would dawn.

My deep gratitude to Dr Shobhana Abhyankar my Guide, who motivated me by her passion, energy and knowledge. I appreciate her patience with me and her painstaking efforts along with an eye for details that really helped shape this thesis.

I would like to remain indebted to my family: Kundan for being a solid pillar of support; Manasvi and Tulika for their love, for making innumerable sacrifices and for bringing cheer to my life; my father Mr Vinayak Shete my mother-in-law Vaishali Ruikar and aunt Mrs Suman Shete for their blessings and for sharing their wisdom; Veer-Jude and Prasad-Deepali for unflinchingly supporting me.
I appreciate the assistance provided by Deccan Education Society, the Principal, Vice-principal and staff of Fergusson College, Pune in pursuit of my goal.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to: the head of Psychology department, Asst. Prof. Anil Sawarkar for supporting me wholeheartedly in multiple roles of a colleague, fellow researcher, friend, and now as my boss; Asst. Prof. Dr Megha Deuskar for being a good friend and always giving me a patient listening; to Asst. Prof. Vijay Rangari for introducing PsyCap to me; Angeline Thomas, Pooja Prabhavalkar, Sagar Vidwans for being such amazing folks and motivating me time and again.

I am thankful to Mrs Sharmin Palsetia for being so diligent and Asst. Prof. Anjali Kedari for the encouragement and timely guidance given. My gratitude also goes to Ms. Shilpa Salve for being welcoming and very positive.

I gratefully acknowledge help extended in data collection by Mrs Kalapana Umrani, Mr Waman Joshi, Mr Jayesh Shirpurkar, Ms. Swapna Datar, Mr. Ravi Joshi, Mrs Mughdha Hazarnis-Toke, Minal and Rohit Ambekar, Sonal Narvekar, Shantanu Saraf, Madhav Gaikwad and Dattatray Telang

A big thank you to the head Prof. Dr R. S. Mhaske and staff of department of Psychology SPPU also the former head Dr B. R. Shejwal for extending me all the help needed.

Last but not the least, my special thanks to all the participants for being a part of this research. There are many well-wishers whom I could not mention here but who have played a valuable role to bring this task to completion. Thank-you each and everyone from the bottom of my heart.
