ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study has been made possible under the able supervision of Professor Pura Tado Department of Political Science, Rajiv Gandhi University, Rono Hills, Doimukh Arunachal Pradesh. I convey my deepest sense of gratefulness and indebtedness for his valuable guidance and suggestion without which this study would not have been concluded. His constructive and instructive analysis had been my Guiding soul in carrying out this study.

I express my sincere thanks to Professor B. Tripathy and Dr Tana Showren for time to time valuable suggestion and encouragement.

I am grateful to Mr Nabam Aga and Mr Bangia Tada who have helped me during the data collection and processing.

I am obliged to all the valuable respondents, villagers, priest, village head, public leaders and knowledgeable persons, who provided me plenty of information on the subject of the Nyelee, customs and tradition of Nyishi.

I am obliged to Professor P. K Panigrahi, Head of Department political science and my learned colleagues of political science department who are my sources of inspiration and guiding force in the study.

My sincere thanks goes to library Staff of Rajiv Gandhi University, State central library, Itanagar, State museum, Itanagar, District Record Room, Yupia, Directorate of Economic and Statistic, Itanagar, who have provided me important required information of the study.
At last, I owe my gratitude to all my well-wishers, my family members, who have been my great sources of energy through out my meaningful journey to achieve this goal. It will be mistake if I forget to express my candour to my true soul partner Dr Techi Jiri, who help me in Data collection and processing as well as constantly encouraging and valuable support. I am grateful to my wife and sportive twin Nyigra (daughter) and Nungki (son) who help me to regain zeal, energy, happiness and soul searching stride in the time of my fatigue.
