PREFACE

First and foremost I take the opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Nov Rattan Sharma, Professor, Head, Department of Psychology, M.D. University Rohtak for his patience, constant motivation and guidance. He just not helped me to attain my goals but made the entire journey of my Ph. D work an enriched experience. The thesis “HARM AVOIDANCE, INCOMPLETENESS AND QUALITY OF LIFE IN PERSONS WITH OBSESSIVE COMPULSIVE AND GENERALIZED ANXIETY DISORDERS” has been only possible through his encouraging attitude, meticulous guidance, scholastic criticism, intellectual suggestions and untiring patience. His guidance became sustained source of inspiration for me during the process of the study and it cannot be completed without the proper support and encouragement of my supervisor. I oblige respectful gratitude to my supervisor for sparing his precious time from hectic schedule to get my work completed.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the teachers of department of Psychology, M.D. University Rohtak for their support cooperation and valuable suggestions during the whole process of my PhD work.

I owe my thanks to all the participants who were there in the process of the study for their cooperation, letting me receive their feelings and experiences. Also, I am thankful to the respondents whose responses were the core of study which helped me to make my research successful.

I would like to extend my thanks to the authority persons of the institutes and clinics who permitted me to take the data from their setup. Without their cooperation, completion of my research work would not be possible.

I am thankful to all the professionals who helped me in the back to back translation of the questionnaire which have been used in the study.

The Preface would not be complete without being grateful to administration staff of department of Psychology, who kept me, updated and helped me in fulfilling all the administrative formalities of Ph.D.
I would like to express my sincere thanks to all my lovely friends specially Manisha, Summi, Ved and Abhishek who helped me for the collection of entire data and keep motivating me through entire process.

Special thanks to Poonam and Rakhi who become close friends of mine, who taken care of me very well and have helped me in the finalization of my thesis work.

My family is the whole and soul of my life, it is my strength. Without the constant support of my parents, accomplishment of this work would never have been possible. I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to daddy, mummy, Bhai, dì, jiju. My love to the cutest niece of the world (Pihu), whose cute smile would de-stress me and boost my mood as well throughout the whole process. I love you all and thank you for your endless support.
