Acknowledgements

First of all, I would like to express my most sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Joyati Bhattacharya, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Assam University, Silchar who has helped to develop scientific temperament, inquisitiveness and thirst for knowledge in me through her productive instructions and patient guidance since the beginning of the study. Each meeting with her has been fruitful and educative. While as an individual she is very caring and soft in nature, as a supervisor she is not quite so. She is very strict in this regard and takes stock of the development of the work at regular intervals. This strictness and discipline of her as supervisor has always exerted the necessary pressure in me to work hard and complete the thesis well before time. My association with her has helped me to learn many things, most importantly the value of hard work. Her constructive suggestions and hard work motivated me at every step of my research work, without which this work would not have been completed. I sincerely thank her for that.
